Further Boost Hinted for B.C. In Price of Milk

Warning Sounded in Legislature By Minister in Unusual Debate

Mrs. British Columbia, who has accepted two price rises of two cents each in the past year in the amount she has to put out every morning for a quart of milk, may have to budget for yet another increase soon.

This was the warning sounded in the Legislature yesterday by Agriculture Minister Frank Putnam during a half-hour debate on the functioning of the milk board created under an act of the Legislature last year.

Worried about the possibility of yet another increase in consumer prices, Mr. Putnam said it looked as if there would have to be one, but hoped it could be avoided.

His statement was made during an unusual debate which saw A. R. MacDougall (Cln., Point Grey) attacking milk controls as "bureaucratic," and Opposition member J. H. Corsbie (C.C.F., Peace River) defending them as essential for the protection of the dairy farmer.

Dr. J. J. Gillis (Cln., Yale) suggested that the time had come when people should be able to go to a depot to collect their milk supplies instead of having to pick them up from the doorstep, since distribution charges apparently were going to cause the new price increase.

The whole problem, replied Mr. Putnam, was created by withdrawal of the consumer subsidy formerly paid by Ottawa.

Mr. Corsbie told the House the dairy farmer was not making anything like the wages of the laborer, that milk was "entitled" to go up in price, and that "we should be willing to see it."

"It's the poorer classes of people who need it most, and they should not be penalized," J. H. Cates (Cln., North Vancouver) added.

Rush Three In Accidents To Hospital

Auto Strikes Pole On Douglas Street

Two persons were taken to St. Joseph's Hospital by police late last night after their car ran off the road on Douglas Street near Dupplin Street, city police reported.

In a second accident, Harold W. Stewart, 2270 McGill Street, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital but was released after treatment. He suffered scratches and bruises when the car he was driving struck a telephone pole near the Johnson Street Bridge extension and turned over, police said.

Injured in the first accident were: Alexander Robertson, driver, of 2306 Newton Street, who suffered a possible fractured leg and a possible fractured pelvis; Miss Jerry Eastwood, 15, of 231 Ontario Street, a cut lip and injuries to her right knee.

Assessment Commission Proposed at Esquimalt

Establishment of an assessment commission or board of assessment officials, composed of experienced valuators, to hear appeals from decisions of a municipal court of revision, was suggested by Reeve E. J. Read to the Esquimalt Council last night.

The reeve's suggestion followed his announcement that a Supreme Court judgment handed down yesterday had allowed the appeal of Yarrows Ltd. against the municipality's 1947 assessment on improvements to the firm's property. Reduction allowed by the court was $79,945.

Reduction of the assessment roll of the municipality brought up the question of its effects on Esquimalt's share of school costs, which are based on assessment, and the council decided to inform immediately the Greater Victoria Board of School Trustees of the court's decision.

Meanwhile, the council approved payment of Esquimalt's share of school costs subject to any change brought about by the implementation of the Goldenberg Commission report and changes in the municipal assessment.

At the same time, Esquimalt endorsed the action taken by the City Council in protesting Oak Bay's reduction of assessment resulting in lower school costs.

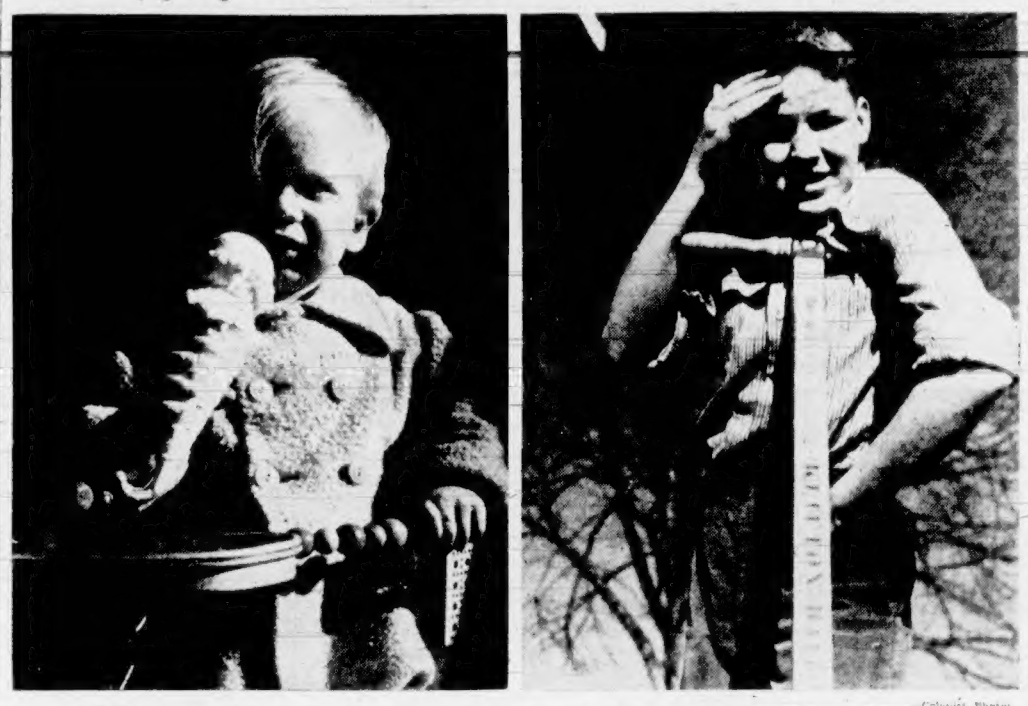
Fine Weather Here to Stay

Victoria's fine weather, according to the weatherman, is here to stay.

Although no records have been broken as yet, Victoria enjoyed among the highest temperatures in the Dominion during the week-end and all predictions point toward continued cloudless skies and Summer sunshine.

In 1942 a record of 68 degrees was recorded on March 31. With 13 days to go, Victoria has recorded 65 degrees and the weatherman can see no sign of change.

Spring Influences Actions of Victorians Over Week-End



—Colonist Photos

Jimmy McVeeters, 1314 Gladstone Avenue, aged 17 months, is unaware of the fact that Friday is the first day of Spring, but even at his tender age he has noticed a change in the weather and a resulting change in all lovers of the outdoors. It was not long after he finished with the business of having his picture taken that he started on the top layer of his ice cream cone. At right, Jim McWilliams, 62 Cambridge Street, takes a breather after struggling with his father's lawn mower. Maintaining that Spring is wonderful, he felt the desire for manual labor lessening considerably.

U.S.-Britain to Oppose Russian Reparation Plan

MOSCOW, March 17 (AP).—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia demanded tonight that the Foreign Ministers devise a 20-year plan under which Germany would pay $10,000,000,000 in reparations to Russia.

Authoritative sources said later that the United States and Britain will oppose spreading German reparations over a 20-year period on the grounds that 20 years is too long a time to impose such a burden on Germany, and that its imposition would hinder Germany's recovery for years to come.

Molotov's demands, which exceeded by far the expectations of even the most pessimistic Western observers, included a proposal that reparations be paid from current German production.

Taking sharp issue with the Russian diplomat, State Secretary Marshall of the United States informed him that Germany must be made self-sufficient before reparations are skimmed from production.

"We cannot accept a unified Germany under a procedure which would in effect mean that the American people would pay reparations to an ally," said Marshall.

Molotov's charges that the Western powers had violated repeatedly economic agreements reached at Potsdam and Yalta also drew a sharp rebuke from Marshall.

"I do not agree with the basis and or logic of much that he said," Marshall declared.

Molotov's demands, delivered as the Four-Power Conference went into its second week, included:

1. Reparations from current German production, by the removal of capital goods such as factories, and by a division of foreign German assets.

2. Immediate cancellation of the economic merger of the British and United States zones of Germany.

3. Four-Power control of the industrially-rich Ruhr, now in the British zone.

4. Raising of the German level of industry to 12,000,000 tons of steel a year, so that the output could be used for reparations.

5. Creation of central agencies in Germany to administer the reparations program.

6. Measures to increase German exports, improve her financial and currency conditions, and place control of cartels and trusts under the state.

City Supports Plan of Lions

Grant of $5,000 from the Centenary Fund and a 20-year lease for a large parcel of property in the Gorge district for $1 a year to the Victoria Lions Club were approved by the City Council yesterday.

The city will retain title to the property which will be used by the club for erection of duplex dwellings for indigent aged couples who are now separated when placed in homes under city care.

The homes will be operated on a non-profit basis. According to club officials, the Provincial Government has agreed to provide financial assistance.

End Purchases From Orientals

Acting on a motion of Trustee Waldo M. Skillings, the Greater Victoria School Board last night ordered its purchasing agent to cease buying school supplies of vegetables from "Oriental merchants."

Opposing the motion were Trustees A. Edmonds, B. Caley and Miss Isla Tuck. They asked that their vote be recorded.

Said Trustee Edmonds: "If they are citizens here they should not be discriminated against."

Miss Tuck pointed out Orientals were taxpayers and as such should have their share of the board's business.

Raising the question, Mr. Skillings said he had questioned a payment to an Oriental firm in last month's financial statement. Noting a similar item in expenditures for the current month, he asked for an explanation.

When the board's purchasing agent said the Oriental firms had always given good service, but that he was asking quotations from "white firms," Mr. Skillings replied: "That's not good enough."

Find Body Of Miner

Ontario Police Hunt Second Man

SCHREIBER, Ont., March 17 (CP).—Ontario Provincial Police tonight redoubled their efforts to find the body of Marcel Duchesneau, 28, of Quebec City, after uncovering that of Joseph Grant, 55-year-old Toronto prospector, near his cabin six miles from this northwestern Ontario community.

The finding of Grant's body, buried in four feet of snow, frozen and bearing what a preliminary examination indicated was a bullet wound in the head, apparently substantiated the police conviction that both men had been slain between December 1 and 10 last year.

It climaxed, too, weeks of investigation by Inspector Frank Kelley of Toronto and the officers to whom the case had been given when Grant's Toronto relatives reported he disappeared.

Council Grants Aid to Hospital

An advance of $40,000 to the Royal Jubilee Hospital to help that institution in its straitened financial condition was approved by the City Council yesterday.

The move was recommended by the finance committee. Ald. Edward Williams, chairman, emphasized, however, that the grant was being made without prejudice to present financial arrangements between the hospital and the city.

In a brief presented to the council last week, the board of directors of the hospital asked for a grant of $44,000 in addition to present city grants. The board claimed the hospital was operating at a loss, had increased fees to a point where collections were falling off and that some of its financial difficulties could be traced to the fact that the city was not carrying the full burden of the cost of caring for city indigents.

Ald. Williams stated that no new financial arrangements will be made with the hospital until the city sees what relief may come from legislation resulting from the Goldenberg Commission report.

Rebels Holding Their Officers

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 17 (AP).—Government sources said tonight that insurgent troops in Northern Paraguay had imprisoned many of their own officers for opposing the "Communist ideologies" of the uprising.

Informants estimated that the rebel force, centred in Concepcion, totalled approximately 3,000 men. Many of the units had no commanders, they said.

Meanwhile, the Government acknowledged that revolutionary troops had captured Bella Vista on the border with Brazil, Capitan Bado and the upper Paraguay River stronghold of Pena Hermosa, but said that Loyalist troops had taken Belen Cue, 50 miles southeast of Concepcion.

Slides Down Hill—Safe by a Nose

LANGDALE, England, March 17 (Reuters).—Farmer Joseph Gregg, plummeting head-first 300 feet down a mountainside in the Lancashire district, dug his toes into the snow and came to a stop unhurt, his nose almost at the edge of a precipice. He picked himself up and continued with his work of rescuing sheep buried in snowdrifts.

Severe 'Quake Is Recorded

By The Canadian Press

An earthquake of great severity was recorded Monday on seismographs in various parts of the world and varying estimates indicated it was located in Turkestan or in the Indian Ocean.

At Pasadena, Calif., Dr. Charles Richter, seismologist, said it was recorded at 12:33.39 a.m., P.S.T., at a distance of about 7,300 miles. He said it probably occurred in the Central Asiatic area of the Soviet Republic formerly known as Turkestan.

At Trieste Institute, where the disturbance also was recorded, it was estimated by scientists to have occurred in the Indian Ocean near the west coast of India.

At Fordham University, New York, Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, seismologist, described the earthquake as "quite severe."

At West Bromwich, England, Seismologist J. J. Shaw said it was a "quake of "exceptional violence."

The Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Saanich, reported the seismograph at the observatory had not recorded any major waves.

Attlee Speech On Air Today

LONDON, March 17 (CP).—Prime Minister Attlee will make a radio speech tomorrow at 9 p.m. (2 p.m. C.S.T.) on Britain's economic situation, his office announced today.

C.P.R. to Build Major Terminal For Island City

Company Announces Nanaimo Plans Mayor Sets Figure at $2,000,000

NANAIMO, March 17.—Canadian Pacific Railway officials today outlined plans for a land and sea terminal on the waterfront here that will give this Vancouver Island entry port the most modern facilities for handling passenger and freight traffic.

Land has been acquired from Canadian Collieries, Ltd., as a site for a combined ship, autobus and track terminal to provide direct ship-side connections between Canadian Pacific vessels on the Vancouver-Nanaimo run and buses serving north and south points on Vancouver Island.

Announcement of the plan was made by W. S. Hall, assistant general manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Vancouver.

The new terminus will replace existing wharf facilities of the C.P.R. at Nanaimo, one of the main centres of entry and departure on rapidly growing Vancouver Island.

Preliminary work on the project is now under way and plans have been prepared by company engineers.

A new roadway from the proposed terminal will connect with main highways leading out of Nanaimo.

Building will include a modern, new passenger depot on the wharf which will be directly connected with the autobus station, a depot for freight trucks and a garage for servicing buses and trucks. A parking area for private cars has been allotted next to the passenger station.

The piers will provide wharfage facilities for two ships of the "Princess" class, operated by the C.P.R. between Vancouver and Nanaimo and carrying passengers and automobiles.

NANAIMO, March 17. — This afternoon members of the city council met officials of the C.P.R., who explained plans which involve expenditure here of some $2,000,000 by the company on wharf improvements and better facilities for handling freight.

At the council meeting tonight, Mayor George Muir said it was a happy day for Nanaimo, and shows that "we are coming into our own at last." When the project was completed, he pointed out, it would mean considerable expenditure by the city for improved streets, especially Ravine Street, through which much traffic will be diverted.

Sees Horror Of Punjab Race Riots

Indian Leader Completes Tour

NEW DELHI, March 17 (AP).—Jawaharlal Nehru said tonight upon his return from a three-day tour of the riot-torn Punjab that he had seen "ghastly sights" and heard of human behavior that would "degrade even a brute," but he predicted an end to the present disturbances within "a very few days."

The All-India Congress leader in the interim Government declared that stricter measures would be imposed in the area, where fighting between Moslems and Hindu-Sikh factions has claimed more than 1,000 lives and resulted in wide destruction of property.

He said Amritsar, the city worst hit, was perhaps 10 per cent destroyed.

Referring apparently to Moslem demands that the Punjab be made part of an independent Moslem state of Pakistan, he said "I am sure that the Punjab will remain part of India in spite of everything that has happened and is likely to happen."

Eight Killed In Air Crash

BOGOTA, Colombia, March 17 (AP). — Transportes Aero Centro Americanos (T.A.C.A.) Airlines said tonight that one of its passenger liners had crashed into a mountain 25 miles northwest of Medellin today and that five passengers and three crew members, including two United States citizens, probably had perished.

Dominion Marketing Act Not Proposed This Year

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP). — The Commons tonight voted 88-74 against a C.C.F. amendment that would have had the effect of replacing a bill providing for the control and sale of agricultural products with a Dominion Natural Products Marketing Act.

The C.C.F., Progressive Conservative and Social Credit Party members voted in a bloc for the amendment, opposed only by the Liberals.

Before the vote was taken, Agriculture Minister Gardiner stated the Government felt that a Dominion Natural Products Marketing Act should not be brought down at this time.

In reply to Opposition questions he declined to give definite assurances that one would be brought down next session.

He said the bill before the House would have a one-year duration and would enable the Government to fill its bacon, cheese, egg, beef and other food contracts with the United Kingdom. It would also make provision for the filling of an apple contract with Britain.

Spokesmen for all Opposition parties urged the introduction of a new bill, and C.C.F. members asked at least that assurances be given that a Dominion marketing bill would be brought in next year.

The amendment was moved Friday by A. M. Nicholson (C.C.F., Mackenzie) when the bill providing for the sale and export of agricultural products came up for second reading.

Britain Plans Emergency Measures To Meet Blizzard, Floods Situation

LONDON, March 17 (CP).—Parliament today discussed Government emergency measures to meet Scottish blizzards and tragic week-end floods in England which have caused 15 deaths so far and have resulted in vast property damage.

As some areas in Scotland remained isolated because of snow drifts, thaws in England and Wales sent rivers bursting their banks and pouring over thousands of acres.

Most of the deaths were caused by collapsing houses, washed-out trees and landslides. Agriculture experts said in the House of Commons that apart from United Kingdom livestock losses—including 1,000,000 dead sheep—meagre wheat harvests now were in prospect in many areas.

Along the flooded Thames River in Southern England, antiquated motorboats and other rivercraft which brought weary thousands back from Dunkerque in 1940 were in action again tonight. Their mission was to evacuate imperilled families from towns and villages along the river.

In Buckinghamshire and Norfolk, flood conditions and snow have made many farmers feel it now is useless to sow wheat. Reports of similar anxiety have been sent out by farmers in Yorkshire, Lincolnshire, Oxfordshire and Suffolk.

Apart from other farm work undone, potatoes—which should be in the ground at the end of February—still are unplanted.

Of more immediate concern are the dangerous flood conditions. The usually tranquil Thames is swollen to more than twice its normal width at several points upstream from London, bursting banks, making thousands temporarily homeless and endangering the health of several communities where water supplies are contaminated.

The Air Ministry predicts continued mild weather and no let-up in the thaw. Another unpleasant prediction came from the weather experts—"considerable rain and gales."

One of the major danger points tonight is Maidenhead, Berks., where 1,000 persons have been evacuated and 8,000 are living in gasless homes. Troops and police at Maidenhead are battling hardest against the rushing rivers.

Man in Hospital With Diphtheria

Another case of diphtheria, the fourth this year, is now in isolation in Jubilee Hospital, Dr. J. L. Murray Anderson, medical health officer, announced yesterday.

Victim of the disease is an adult James Island resident, related to the five-year-old girl who died of the same affliction recently, Dr. Anderson stated. He is suffering from a mild case.

Also isolated as carriers are two other individuals from James Island.

Meanwhile, Dr. Anderson reported that Dr. J. H. Moore, James Island health officer, is making a close

Howe Envisions Building Boom

HAMILTON, March 17 (CP).—Canada is in the grip of a world steel shortage and "It has been necessary to practically prohibit the export of steel from Canada" Reconstruction Minister Howe said tonight.

In a speech he said this year "promises to be the biggest building year that Canada has ever experienced."

Jewelry Theft Loss Is Heavy

Thieves who broke into Suite 3 at 1140 Pandora Avenue early last night carried off a gold ring and bracelet, each valued at $150, and a quantity of other jewelry, city police reported.

Detectives Angus Munro and Louis Callon investigated after the owner, Mrs. Mildred Poulton, reported the theft at 8:25. They said that entry was gained by a fire escape at the rear after 5:45 p.m. The valuable articles were a gold ring and a chipped diamond bracelet.

"Sit Tight, Worry Ottawa, Don't Sign" Knight Warns Tenants at Braefoot

"Sit tight, worry the Government and don't sign any contracts until the investigating committee's report is received," warned Robert Knight, chairman of the Zone Council of the Canadian Legion, at a meeting last night of tenants on the Veterans' Land Act Braefoot Estate project.

Destined to be a stormy meeting, the irate group of veterans and their wives were calmed down only through the efforts of Mr. Knight and A. Palmer, executive secretary of the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council.

Prior to the meeting several tenants on the V.L.A. project threatened a walkout if conditions were not improved and capital costs reduced in the near future. Mr. Knight urged the veterans "not to fly off the handle."

Referring to a telegram received from Veterans Affairs Minister Ian Mackenzie, which stated that the "investigating committee" would turn in its report within a week, Mr. Knight said: "This is more of Mr. Mackenzie's hedging. He is referring to Gordon Murchison's report and we asked for the report of the committee of experts appointed by the Government, the Canadian Legion and the Rehabilitation Council."

A tenant eye-witness to the investigation said: Mr. Murchison and his associates merely walked through Braefoot on the road. If this is the report Ottawa is awaiting we are not satisfied."

Mr. Knight said that too much pressure had been brought to bear in all V.L.A. dealings with the veteran tenants. He said a veteran should not be required to sign an agreement until he is satisfied that the structure is in good condition. Mr. Knight blamed lack of good Government inspection for faulty construction and not Vancouver contractors.

T. Barnet, V.L.A. administrator for British Columbia, who attended the meeting, said two department representatives started inspecting the houses yesterday to determine repairs needed.

Veterans at the meeting not satisfied with this procedure also objected to having to sign papers for repairs.

A resolution was passed asking the local members, Major-General G. R. Pearkes and R. W. Mayhew, to have the investigating committee's report placed on the floor of the House in Ottawa.

Japan Peace Treaty Urged by MacArthur

TOKIO, March 17 (AP).—Gen. MacArthur declared today that a peace treaty with Japan should be made quickly, abolishing the occupation and leaving future guidance of this country to the United Nations.

"If the United Nations ever is to succeed, this is the most favorable opportunity it ever had," the occupation commander told American correspondents at luncheon [illegible] Japan is now economically blockaded by the Allied powers. Economic warfare along those lines is still as bitter here as when guns were firing; and now the strangulation is worse because we have returned millions of repatriates from abroad."

"If the United Nations cannot provide controls it cannot meet anything . . . the Japanese would accept it . . . it would be considered protective rather than repressive. It could continue as long as it was beneficent.

"I would not envision any military formations of any sort after a peace treaty. Bayonet control would be a mockery."

MacArthur defined the occupation job as falling into three phases—military, political and economic.

"The military purpose, which is to ensure that Japan will follow the ways of peace and never again be a menace, has been, I think, accomplished. . . . The political phase is approaching such completion as is possible under the occupation."

He mentioned the process of democratization and said, "her spiritual revolution has been probably the greatest the world has ever known."

On the third phase, however, he [illegible]

TOKIO, March 18 (Tuesday) (AP).—General MacArthur's declaration that the occupation of Japan should be terminated as soon as a peace treaty can be signed and the nation's guidance turned over to the United Nations was applauded today by Japanese.

They called his remarks the strongest and most detailed expression of Japan's present position the world has heard.

MacArthur told a group of American correspondents at a luncheon yesterday that Japan has been demilitarized, and her political transposition nearly completed, but that her economic situation is desperate.

Union Switch Plan Charged

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP).—A charge that an attempt was being fostered within the Canadian Seamen's Union executive to switch it from the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to the C.I.O. was made by J. A. (Pat) Sullivan in his letter of resignation from the C.S.U. presidency, it was learned tonight.

Declaring the C.S.U. had become "an organization of dictatorship and not an organization of the workers," Sullivan expressed despair over its future in a letter he addressed to its executive March 14—the day before he disappeared from here after announcing his departure from Communism and union office.

"If there was the slightest hope of rebuilding the C.S.U. into what it originally was intended for," he wrote, "I would stay in the fight. However, I fear that that is too late."

VANCOUVER, March 17 (CP).—James Thompson, international vice-president, Canadian Seamen's Union, said here today that John A. Hicks, member of the Great Lakes strike committee last Summer, was considering "an operative for the ship owners."

He denied that Hicks was never a member of the C.S.U. executive and declared he had information that the former merchant seaman was "recruited as a strikebreaker" in Winnipeg.

Hicks, now living at Esquimalt, charged Saturday that Communist elements in Canadian unions had plotted a Dominion-wide tie-up of industry for this Spring, but that their plans had been foiled.

Carson Explains Highway Program

VANCOUVER, March 17 (CP). — Public Works Minister E. C. Carson told members of the Automotive Transport Association of British Columbia tonight that B.C. is "faced with an increase in railway freight rates and you must be in readiness to provide the service if necessary."

Mr. Carson told truckers, meeting in two-day convention here, that the Provincial Government intended to take over the three-cent gas tax when it was released by the Dominion Government and advocated it be set up as a paving fund.

Other highway helps soon to be inaugurated, he said, were uniform road signing in conjunction with the Prairie Provinces, the removal of non-essential signs, speed zoning of highways and a patrol through the Fraser Canyon Road.

"We are trying to set up road standards comparable to the United States," he said, "and will get a real program of highway construction rolling in about a year."

Young Speakers Chide Parents

VERNON, March 17 (CP). — The lack of religious education in schools was rapped by Tom Bulman, winner in the public speaking contest, sponsored by the Knights of Pythias, in which five high school students participated.

The quintette, who spoke on "Juvenile Delinquency, Its Cause and Cure," expressed the opinion that parents of today should take stock of their habits, social life and business preoccupation, with a view to spending more time in their homes.

"We are taught Latin, Greek and mathematics," Bulman said. "How is it we are not taught how to live."

MINERS PASS THE HAT

PITTSBURGH, March 17 (AP).—Many rank-and-file coal miners tonight were reported "passing the hat" to pay the $710,000 in fines levied against their leader, John L. Lewis, and the United Mine Workers (A.F.L.) as a result of last November's soft-coal strike. The movement was voluntary.

United States Renews Protest

BUDAPEST, March 17 (AP).—The United States, renewing accusations of Russian interference in Hungary, declared today that Hungarian Communists are attempting to seize power from the freely-elected Hungarian Government.

In its second note this month to Russian occupation authorities, the United States said the action of "minority groups under the leadership of the Hungarian Communist Party . . . clearly threatens the continuance of democracy in Hungary."

Government sources in London said Moscow had officially rejected a British note calling for an impartial Allied investigation of charges of Russian interference in Hungary's internal affairs.

The new American communication said the United States, Britain and Russia — as signers of the Yalta agreement in regard to liberated Europe—"are obligated to take concerted action to investigate political conditions in Hungary."

The first American protest was lodged March 5. Three days later Sviridov vetoed the request for a probe into Hungary's internal affairs.

Russia Opposes British Scheme

MOSCOW, March 17 (CP).—Britain today proposed to the Big Four deputy foreign ministers a new plan for broader participation of 18 Allied countries with Britain, the United States, Russia and France in drafting the German peace treaty.

Under the scheme, presented by Sir William Strang, political adviser to Foreign Secretary Bevin, all 18 states would be given an opportunity to sit on permanent committees drafting the German treaty after the present Moscow conference of the Big Four Foreign Ministers.

This is the most acceptable scheme for middle and small-power participation yet advanced by any of the four big powers, but it brought an immediate objection from Andrei Vishinsky, the Russian deputy foreign minister, who said the committee would "become debating clubs." He said this liberalizing plan would doom committees to failure.

No action was taken on the proposal, which was linked directly to last Friday's meeting at the British Embassy here among Sir William and diplomatic representatives of Canada, Australia and New Zealand when Dana L. Wilgress, Canadian Ambassador in Moscow, pressed for 18-power participation in the committee's work.

De Valera Wants United Ireland

DUBLIN, March 17 (AP).—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera called on Irish-Americans tonight to "lend support" in uniting Northern and Southern Ireland under the flag of independent Eire.

In a St. Patrick's Day broadcast to the United States, De Valera declared: "Our national integrity has been destroyed by the unnatural partition of our country, enacted and enforced by coercion from outside."

. . Oddities . .

NEWBURYPORT, Mass., March 17 (AP).—This is a "Pat and Mike" story for St. Patrick's Day.

The City Council held a special session to draw a juror.

Councillor "Mike" O'Connor reached into the jury list box, containing 200 names.

"Pull out Pat's name," joked Councillor James A. Croteau.

"Mike" did. He drew the name of "Pat" Welch.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., March 17. (AP).—In a traditional rivalry at the University of New Mexico, arts and sciences college students regularly undertake to pull down the engineers' flag just before the annual engineering students' annual St. Patrick's Day dance.

This year the engineers played it safe. They dug an 80-foot trench from the powerhouse, piped live steam at 180 degrees Fahrenheit inside the hollow flagpole and dared all comers to climb it.

The flag still flies.

TORONTO, March 17 (CP). — Turned down by an insurance company as a bad risk when he was 18, Charles Priestman, 80, today took a St. Patrick's Day stroll to Oakville—a distance of 25 miles.

A firm believer in the benefits of walking, one of his favorite stunts is the annual walk on the Irish Saint's Day. Today's trip took three hours and 45 minutes. "About average," said Mr. Priestman.

Council Delays Trustee Issue

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., March 17 (AP).—Action was delayed on the United States trusteeship plan for the Japanese-mandated islands again today after Britain and Australia sought to write into the agreement a provision that it would not become effective until the Japanese peace is concluded.

The proposal was opposed by Warren R. Austin, of the United States, who contended the trusteeship was a matter for the United Nations Security Council to settle and had nothing to do with the peace treaty.

The council put the issue over until Friday.

Austin was supported by Chinese Delegate Dr. Quo Tai-Chi, Polish Delegate Oscar Lange, and French Delegate Alexandre Parodi.

The issue was raised when Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, of Brazil, president of the council, expressed doubts as to the legality of an Australian amendment which would have made the trusteeship agreement subject to confirmation by the peace conference.

British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan said he felt the Australian proposal was proper and necessary.

Parodi said Japan had forfeited her rights to the islands, and that it was up to the United Nations to decide their future status.

British End Martial Law

JERUSALEM, March 17 (AP).—Tens of thousands of cheering, smiling Jews streamed out of the martial law areas of Palestine today moments after British troops lowered barbed wire barriers which isolated two sections of the Holy Land for the last 15 days.

Military rule, affecting more than 250,000 Jews, ended at noon in both sections—the thickly-populated Mea [illegible] an area of 40 square miles on the Palestine coast including the all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv.

Simultaneously, the British authorities began a new drive to round up underground members responsible for outbreaks of violence.

Pictures and descriptions of 18 "wanted" men were posted with statements of rewards for their capture.

In another move against the underground a Jerusalem military court sentenced Moshe Barasani, 21-year-old Jew arrested a week ago near the Jerusalem martial law area, to death for allegedly carrying a hand grenade. Four other alleged underground members, including Dov Bela Gruner, also are under sentence of death. Gruner's case has been appealed to the Privy Council. Its outcome is expected to detetrmine whether the five will be executed.

Drew Charges C.B.C. Speaker

TORONTO, March 17 (CP).—The C.B.C. today was charged by Premier Drew with "deliberate misrepresentation" of Ontario's policy regarding taxation and the Dominion-Provincial conference.

Speaking to the Ontario Legislature this afternoon, Mr. Drew said a statement made by a "paid news commentator . . . (giving) an interpretation of the week's events under the title 'Capital Report' . . . was absolutely untrue and utterly indefensible."

The Premier quoted the commentator as saying:

"The budget statements from Ontario and Quebec destroy any hope which may have remained that tax agreements could be reached soon with all nine provinces . . ."

This, Mr. Drew said, was an "affront not only to the people of this province but to all the people of Canada whose money is being used for false propaganda of this nature."

Ferry Dispute Meeting Today

SEATTLE March 17 (AP).—The deadlock in attempts to get both sides in the four-day Puget Sound ferryboat strike to resume negotiations was broken today by Governor Walgren.

At his invitation, issued through Ward Toner, supervisor of the State Mediation Board, representatives of the striking C.I.O. Marine Engineers' Beneficial Association and the strikebound Black Ball Lines will meet in Olympia tomorrow. Two representatives of the United States Conciliation Service, Harry Lewis and A. L. Peterson, will also sit in on the sessions.

Capt. A. M. Peabody of the company said he and other company officials would attend but declined to comment on the likelihood of a settlement.

H. L. Daggett, the union's business agent, said the invitation was welcome. "We feel we have a good case, based on real need, and we are glad to have the opportunity to bring it out in the open," he said.

Britain to Withdraw Troops Now in Greece

LONDON, March 17 (Reuters).—President Truman's announcement of financial aid to Greece and Turkey makes no difference to Britain's plans for disposal of British troops in Greece, Hector McNeil, Minister of State, told the Commons today. Troops had been steadily reduced, he said, and would be reduced still further.

These men will be withdrawn as [illegible]

Answering a series of questions about the possible affect of the United States decision on British foreign policy and the consequent position of Greece and Turkey, he said he was not yet in a position to make a full statement.

When H. L. Austin, Labor, asked whether, in view of the "inflammatory" situation, he would consider making representations to the United States to think twice about offering aid to Turkey, McNeil replied with an emphatic "No sir."

Asked whether any request had come from the Turkish Government at any time for assistance such as that foreshadowed in the [illegible]

"We were aware of certain needs, military and economic, which Turkey had tabled."

McNeil did not reply to a question from W. N. Warbey, Labor, asking for a pledge that the British Government would "do everything to restore the influence and authority of the United Nations and so repair the damage which has been done by the United States in bypassing the international organization."

McNeil said Britain's commitments to Greece would end March 31. Although U.N.R.R.A. assistance was coming to an end about the same time, and although the United Nations had no funds to close the consequent cap in the Greek economic system, the British Government decided "after a full and anxious review" that it could not enter into substantial commitments for Greece after March 31.

The Government also decided it would be unable from its own resources, to supply the needs of Turkey.

McNeil said he was aware of no political conditions attached to the American offer to Greece.

Two members, Conservative Major Guy Lloyd and Ernest Thurtle, Labor, asked, amid applause, if McNeil was aware of the "intense satisfaction and relief" which had greeted the news of the "magnificent step" of the United States to save civilization and democracy.

Through the applause, a backbencher was heard to say: "Stuff and nonsense."

Spy Ring Tale Told to Court

MONTREAL, March 17 (CP).—Testimony that prior to June, 1943, the formula for the high explosive RDX had been obtained from "Professor," by a Russian "spy ring" operating from the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa was given here today by Igor Gouzenko, Crown witness in the conspiracy trial of Dr. Raymond Boyer.

Gouzenko testified that "Professor" was the "cover name of Professor Boyer." He said he never met "the Professor" and that it was only a name to him.

Dr. Boyer, wartime chemist on the National Research Council staff and former chemistry professor at McGill University here, is charged with conspiracy to communicate information unlawfully to Russia.

Gouzenko's evidence was in the form of a document, one of four which he describedas being in the handwriting of his chief, Col. Zabotin, and concerning "the organization of Col. Zabotin's spy ring as it was existing the day of his arrival" in 1943.

It described "Professor" as a "Frenchman," an outstanding chemist.

"Gives full information about VV and chemical plants," the document said. "Very wealthy. He is afraid to work (gave formula of RDX up to the present no valuation from the master)."

Gouzenko identified "the master" as the chief of intelligence headquarters in Moscow.

Canteen Funds Use Explained

OTTAWA, March 17 (CP). — The Commons committee studying disposal of roughly $6,000,000 in army canteen funds was told today it should devise a method for using the money to aid veterans of the World War for the next 40 years.

Maj. Alex C. Lewis, of Toronto, secretary-treasurer of the board of trustees of the Ontario Canteen Fund from the Great War, gave that estimate in testifying before the committee on experience gained in aiding ailing veterans and their dependents for the past 20 years.

"Don't think there aren't going to be a lot of men who are going to need assistance," he warned.

"When they get sick or their dependents get sick they are going to need help. You should have a fund for sickness benefits. And it should be paid out locally because if an application was to come all the way to Ottawa, the man is going to be dead before he gets the money."

SHORTAGE MAY CONTINUE

WASHINGTON, March 17 (AP).—The United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization said tonight that despite forecasts of a record 1947 wheat harvest in the United States, the world shortage may continue into 1948.

TESTS PROVE LIBBY'S ARE EXTRA EASY TO DIGEST

Exclusive Homogenization Process Makes Libby's Baby Foods Ten Times Finer in Texture

Because a baby's digestive system is immature, his first fruits and vegetables often cause digestive upsets. Even foods which have been carefully strained contain many coarse fibres and unbroken food cells, and they require over two hours for complete digestion.

But Libby's Foods, which are first strained and then Homogenized, may be completely digested in about thirty minutes. This is because Libby's exclusive Homogenization process explodes the food cells to release the nourishment. The extra fine texture makes these foods extra easy to digest.

FREE BOOKLET on Infant Feeding

Mothers who wish to learn more about the exclusive advantages which Libby's Homogenization process gives, are invited to write for the free booklet, "Healthful Feeding for Your Baby". Just send your name and address to Libby's, Chatham, Ontario, and a copy will be forwarded to you. 976-47

Green Predominant in House Honoring Irish-Born Premier

Yesterday was the "seventeenth of Ireland," and in honor of Irish-born Premier John Hart green was the predominant color in the Legislative Chamber when the House met in the afternoon.

It was a day for exchanges of felicitations across the floor of the House, and even C.C.F. Leader Harold Winch wore a sprig of green to match the large pot of shamrocks and other displays of greenery on the Premier's desk.

But he hastened to tell Mr. Hart that it wasn't for the same reason Mr. Winch wore his shamrock because he subscribed to the Irishman's stand of being "agin the government." He expressed a hope that the "luck of the Irish" would be with the Premier in health and in wealth, but added a rider: "Damnation to him politically."

Not to be outdone, Premier Hart made reference to the friendship that had long existed between Mr. Winch and himself, and added that, despite the Opposition leader's expressed wish, he was not yet ready to "go back to the old sod."

In the House for the Premier's big day of the year was Mr. Speaker Norman Whittaker's predecessor, H. G. Perry, from Prince George, whose presence in the guests' section of the floor was referred to with pleasure by Mr. Winch, whom Mr. Perry first educated in parliamentary procedure when the Opposition leader was a tyro member of the Legislature.

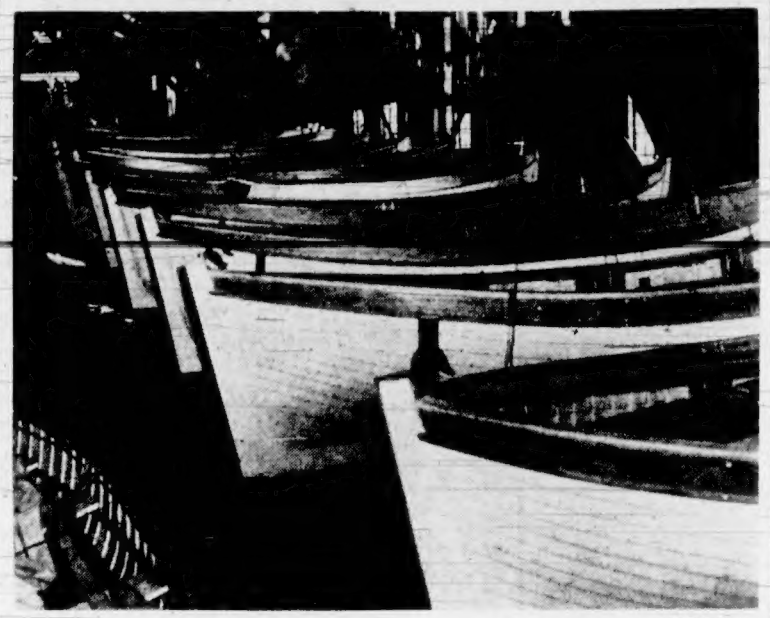
Falconers Build New Lifeboats for Princess Kathleen



—Colonist Photo

INDIRECTLY, the boats pictured above are being built because a hot and blazing sun beats on the Mediterranean Sea and weathered the boats they will replace.

They are large lifeboats being built at Falconer Marine Industries, Ltd., for the C.P.R.'s coastal passenger ship Ss. Princess Kathleen, now being reconverted at Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Ltd.

While serving under the British Admiralty as a troopship, Princess Kathleen spent several war years in the Mediterranean. A hot sun caused her wooden lifeboats to crack and age, bringing about their disposal by the C.P.R.

Twelve new 24-foot boats, each capable of carrying 32 passengers, and four 22-footers, capable of carrying 26 passengers each, will replace them. Work on the boats started about a month ago. Eight have been completed already, it was announced yesterday by H. Delaney, vice-president and general manager at the yard. By April 1, all 16 boats will be ready for delivery to the Princess Kathleen.

Each lifeboat is completely copper riveted, and is made of oak ribs and high-grade cedar planking. They are being built in accordance with an assembly line procedure.

Dewar Checks Aldermen Over By-Law

By a vote of five to four, the City Council yesterday turned down a by-law to rezone the northwest corner of Humboldt and Douglas Streets to permit erection of a service station and storage garage.

The proposal has been considered several times by the council since last Autumn and has been four times before the town planning commission, which consistently voted against the change.

Droning through a series of routine by-law near the close of the meeting yesterday, the council put the by-law through second reading before realizing what was under consideration.

Councillors sat bolt upright when Alderman R. A. C. Dewar said: "Are you aware, gentlemen, that this is the controversial question of rezoning at Humboldt and Douglas Streets?"

With a recorded vote, the by-law fell one vote short of the required two-thirds majority, with Aldermen B. J. Gadsden, H. M. Diggon, Dr. J. D. Hunter and F. G. Mulliner opposing the measure.

A parks committee by-law was introduced yesterday which will prohibit vehicular traffic on the bridge crossing Goodacre Lake in Beacon Hill Park Sundays and holidays. According to Alderman Mulliner the committee felt vehicles created an unnecessary traffic hazard at such times when the park was crowded with pedestrians.

Building of Second Vessel Here May Be Considered by C.N.R.

There is a possibility Canadian National Steamships may consider building a second ultra-modern passenger vessel for service on the British Columbia coast, it was reported yesterday by R. C. Vaughan, president of Canadian National Railways.

This announcement was made at the No. 2 plant of Yarrows Ltd., where Mr. Vaughan was taken on an inspection tour of the $3,000,000 passenger ship now being built for his company.

He intimated that whether or not the second vessel was ordered would depend to a large extent on costs of the first, and potential passenger business of the future.

Admitting there had been considerable delay in the building of the ship now under construction, due to material shortages, Mr. Vaughan said: "The progress being made is exceptionally good."

With him at the shipyard were H. A. Wallace, president of Yarrows Ltd.; E. W. Izard, general manager of the shipyard; C. F. Earle, C.N.R. district passenger agent; and J. J. Raleigh, district freight agent.

Ward 4 Body To Approach B.C. Electric

Representatives of Ward Four Saanich Ratepayers' Association will approach the B.C. Electric Railway Company with a view to extending city light and power rates to Wilkinson Road, it was decided at a meeting of the association last night.

B.C. Telephone officials will also be approached by the ratepayers to eliminate the four-cent toll in the Colquitz area.

Reeve E. C. Warren attended the meeting.

The school board last night decided it will take over operation of the remake centre at the Market Building. Equipment will be supplied by the Dominion Government and, according to an education committee report, operation will result in no expense to the board.

World on Brink of Third War Winch Holds in Talk to Gyros

The world is on the brink of a third international war, in the opinion of Harold Winch, C.C.F. leader of the Opposition, who addressed the Gyro Club yesterday at the Empress Hotel.

"Today, just a comparatively short time after the end of the last war, people are thinking and talking of war," Mr. Winch said. "Nations are being pitted one against the other. Each is fighting for markets, and spheres of influence."

His address centred about the causes of war, with particular emphasis placed on racial discrimination.

"Since the end of the World War just ended," he continued, "we in Canada have shown more hatreds and misunderstandings than ever before. We are not progressing toward peace, we are going backwards."

"We fought Hitler because we did not agree with his way of producing race hatreds," the speaker continued, "and yet in Canada we are doing the same thing."

He mentioned "a business just a few miles from here where persons with colored skin will not be served." He also said that persons other than whites could not be employed in government offices, or work on land owned or leased by the Crown.

"Housecleaning must start at home," he said. "How can we expect international goodwill, brotherhood and understanding when we are not practising what we preach at home?"

Mr. Winch suggested a provincial "bill of rights" be passed to extend to everyone the freedom of religious belief, freedom of expression, freedom to admission in any public place, freedom of educational facilities, freedom of obtaining and retaining employment—"for all persons no matter what their color, race, creed or national origin."

Question of U.B.C. Medical Faculty Topic of Hour-Long Debate in House

One of the Legislature's footballs of 1947—the question of establishment of a medical faculty at the University of British Columbia—was kicked back into play yesterday when the House, in committee of supply, began consideration of a $1,085,000 general grant for the university.

In an hour-long debate, the House heard cries from both sides for immediate action by the Government in the way of dictation to the university board as to what it should do, and a reply from Education Minister G. M. Weir that it was up to the board itself to make a decision, and that under the University Act it was not for the Government to interfere.

Consideration of the vote finally was stood over, at the instance of Dr. J. J. Gillis (Cln., Yale), who declared that he was not satisfied that the House had made the progress it should have made towards the establishment of a faculty at the university. One of the major contributors towards earlier debates on the question, Dr. Gillis said he could not conceive of a medical school that was not attached to Vancouver General Hospital.

Opposition Leader Harold E. Winch, asserting that the university was holding back for a full-scale establishment instead of going ahead with the assistance now offered, charged that the Government was "passing the buck" to the university board and that it could, if it wanted to, tell the university what it thought should be done.

CLAIM REPUDIATED BY MINISTER

That was definitely repudiated by Dr. Weir, who repeated his earlier statement that if the Government intervened it would lay itself open to a charge of political interference with the university.

The minister quoted the University Act in support of his argument that decision rested with the university's board of governors.

"There is nothing in the act that says the Government may—let alone shall—initiate anything of the sort," Dr. Weir said.

He maintained that it was the responsibility of the board of governors to:

1. Decide on a site.
2. Get building plans ready—something that would take six months to a year for a $1,500,000 plan.
3. Get building started.

He said the Government, by offering to make Vancouver Normal School available next Fall and the Model School later, was acting in a spirit of co-operation, and could not be accused of "passing the buck."

Still dissatisfied, Mr. Winch maintained that the onus was on the minister to tell the university board what the Government expected it to do. He suggested that if the Government were serious about the establishment of a medical school and believed it could be done for $1,500,000, it would go to the board and tell it to start.

The whole thing had been played around with too long, said Mrs. Tilly Rolston (Cln., Point Grey), who voiced concern over the plight of more than 500 medical students unable to get into a school anywhere else on the continent.

Showing some signs of exasperation, Dr. Weir declared that the university board had been given so many conflicting reports by so many commissions that it didn't know what to do.

As Minister of Education, he said the Government had proceeded in an official manner and could not contravert Section 10 of the University Act.

Bringing the debate to an end, he said:

"Under the act as it stands, the Government hasn't the legal authority to interfere. We are prepared at any time to meet the board and explore the situation further."

Long before the outbreak of war it was evident that we must have more space at Standard for the service of the homes of Victoria. But only now has it been possible to go ahead with the execution of these plans by the erection of two stories added to the rear section of our present building. Reparations

After all the world has experienced with the effect of reparations, it comes with some surprise that Russia is insisting upon a large bill of costs from a reconstituted Germany, $10,000,000,000 in fact. Few will deny her legal right to damages in that her land was terribly mauled. On the other hand, it is Russia and those nations within her influence which chiefly this time are asking for reparations in punitive sums. What the world lived to learn last time was that such bills can never in fact be collected. They cannot be paid in cash, and if paid in goods they will damage the country which receives those goods in competition with its own.

Neither the British Empire nor the United States on the one hand, nor France and China on the other, have preferred any comparable claim. It may be that Russia, knowing that only default can be the result one day, is putting herself in a trading position; to have something to remit, in the event of that suiting her policies in the years to come. What happened between 1919 and 1939, however, leaves very little doubt as to the fate of reparations. Even if they could be paid, they would break the nation that did so, and keep it in a state of moral revolt and civil unrest.

The world's hope had been put in a different direction. Most people thought that a real effort would be made to reconstitute Germany as a good neighbor in Europe, and not a bad one. There was some hope that education among the rising generation would work out the defects of the past. There was some reason to expect that a lead might be responded to, whereas an ironclad term of punishment and impoverishment could breed little but a desire for revenge. It was revenge most of all which plunged the world into its second global conflict. The world today has grown tired of all that.

The new reparations formula may last as long as the former Dawes plan, but one doubts it. Its end may be the same.

Noisy and Ineffectual

Generally speaking, Canadian citizens have paid relatively little attention to the small minority of trouble-makers in their midst who have subscribed to strange and foreign doctrines. The slather of accusation now over the asserted actions of the Communist Party, either pro or con, will be received by the public generally with about the same weight. Long ago it became patent that some of these people were living in a visionary world, and life in Canada on the whole has been too busy to indulge overmuch in dreams of that particular nature.

When it comes to credibility, the trouble-makers have most often defeated themselves. People may be credulous for a time, but not for long. Sooner or later, the worth and reputation of an individual comes into the balance, and unless they can stand there is not much that will be believed. It is so today with the rift in the Communist ranks. Charge and counter-charge, assertion and denial, name-calling and the rest of it, will mean very little to the average Canadian mind. What is of vastly more concern to Canadians is that Labor clean itself of this spotty infection of foul brood, so that its aims can be seen without distortion.

There is some evidence, here and there, that this is happening. War gives way to peace. The unrest in human minds slowly is composed. Individuals begin once more to think for themselves. The day will never come when we are not prepared to trust the majority of Canadians in their own thinking. For this is a broadly-based and commonsense land, where the trouble-maker is most often held, not in esteem, but in contempt. The pot-and-kettle battle meanwhile may go on for a little time, but in the end Labor will probably get tired of both protestants, and get back to something more truly Canadian in its aims and scope. Certainly most thinking individuals will hope and expect so.

German Manpower

It would be the logic of reality that induced the French Foreign Minister to propose a reduction in German manpower through ordered migration to other countries. France has suffered German invasion in three wars within eighty years, and she has had cause to look with apprehension on the numerically stronger population which has existed on her eastern border. What is perhaps most arresting about Mr. Bidault's proposal is that France is willing to absorb a proportion of Germans into her own population. In view of the history of the two countries this is a revolutionary step.

The manpower figures cited by the French Foreign Minister explain the reason for his suggestion. With the return to the Reich of former exiles and war prisoners Germany would have a greater density of population than when Hitler made this an excuse for aggressive expansion. By contrast France on one side and Poland on the other would each have less than half the number of Germany. Mr. Bidault views such a situation with disquietude, fearing a recurrence of German militarism. Only a major hazard could reconcile French absorption of Germans on what would have to be a fairly large scale.

In view of the problem of finding room for the one million displaced persons of Europe, it would not seem that an enforced migration of Germans is likely to become official Allied policy. No country especially wants these people; few nations are therefore likely to throw open their doors to millions of Germans, and millions it would have to be to cause the proposal to have any real effect. General Marshall's statement that the plan strikes at the heart of the German problem may be correct. Certainly if the German population was reduced drastically her neighbors would breathe easier in the future. At present, however, there is little to suggest that Mr. Bidault's proposal will be accepted universally.

Test Cricket

Reports from Eastern Canada that this country may send a cricket team to England next Summer to engage in Test matches will surprise people who do not think of this sport as being indigenous to Canada to any large extent. Few countries, however, include in their sporting program the variety that is to be found in this Dominion. Games more generally associated with Great Britain and the United States have wide followings, in addition to sports which belong peculiarly to Canada herself. Nowhere else will you find hockey, baseball, football, basketball and soccer, for example, dividing public interest so evenly as in Canada.

Cricket apparently should be added to this list, although this famous English game has offered a more limited appeal to most Canadians, and conditions are none too favorable for its play in some parts of the Dominion. No doubt cricket enthusiasts have been fired with reports of the recent Test series taking place in the sister Dominion of Australia. Along with horse racing, of course, cricket takes pride of place in that country. Every Australian boy is said to be born with a cricket bat, just as young Canadians are believed to be ushered into the world with a pair of skates in attendance. Australia breeds Test cricketers just as prolifically as Canada breeds National League hockey stars.

While Australia has humbled the most recent edition of England's Test teams and so won the "Ashes"—which, incidentally, are not mythical and repose in an urn at Lord's Cricket Ground—first-class cricket in England would seem to be much above the standard of normal Canadian prowess in this sport. It takes the best kind of competition to develop first-class players, however, and a tour of English county sides alone would give fillip to those Canadians who play cricket. If such a tour included Test games the experience would be invaluable, even although the results may be fore-ordained. With its restricted opportunities for play, a Canadian Test eleven could scarcely be expected to do more than extend England to the limit. Victoria, which has done more than many Canadian cities to foster the playing of cricket, will be particularly interested in any Dominion team which may visit England.

Early Budget Desired

Mr. Douglas Abbott has added another to the many statements and rumors about possible reductions in income taxation. The Minister of Finance told a Quebec audience last week that he favors a cut in personal income tax rates. Coming from the man who should have most to say about it, the public will take this as one indication that a lessening of the present heavy imposts will be effected when the budget is brought down. Otherwise Mr. Abbott is building up Canadian hopes for a fall.

Next to a real reduction is the desire that it should be announced as soon as possible. Reports tell of heavy legislation ahead of the House of Commons, and of the Easter recess close at hand; but it is to be hoped Mr. Abbott finds it possible to introduce his budget at an early date. Last year it was in June, with half the year gone, before Canadians knew what to expect. It should be earlier this time, in order to compose the labor and business fronts and accelerate production. The public should not be kept guessing at what its real income will be.

Seen in Passing

For Canada to plead during the war years that daylight saving was indispensable to the nation, and then to drop it like a hot brick, hardly seems rational. Tens of thousands of people living in urban communities have found that daylight saving, adjusted with the season, was helpful. Only national action can make it effective. There is still time to secure that if the Dominion will act.

From "The Passing Strange"

The corn is sown again, it grows;
The stars burn out, the darkness goes.
The rhythms change, they do not close.

They change, and we, who pass like foam,
Like dust blown through the streets of Rome,
Change ever, too, we have no home.

Only a beauty, only a power,
Sad in the fruit, bright in the flower,
Endlessly erring for its hour.

But gathering, as we stray, a sense
Of Life, so lovely and intense,
It lingers when we wander hence.

That those who follow feel behind
Their backs, when all before is blind,
Our joy, a rampart to the mind.

Ship Railway

Frank M. Kelley

Recently displayed on the front page of this newspaper, an "artist's conception" of a "railroad drydock" capable of moving a 15,000-ton vessel some 155 miles across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec illustrated what a "ship railway" would look like in operation.

The story connected with the picture had to do with a list of suggested means by which traffic could be kept moving between the Atlantic [illegible] the Panama Canal being destroyed through an act of war.

That "ship railway" was referred to as "Mexico's unique plan" and the "new means of transporting ships across land." The Mexican engineer responsible for the suggestion of a "dry canal" believes that three or more vessels could be transported daily over the distance, which includes elevations up to 700 feet above sea level.

In any event the sponsors of the "ship railway" claim the road would save a distance of 1,500 miles over the Panama Canal route to vessels operating between Pacific and Atlantic Oceans could handle as much as four millions tons of cargo annually, and pay for itself in 50 years.

Offering no comment as to the merits or otherwise of the proposed "ship railway," the reading of the story nevertheless brought back memories of other days in Eastern Canada to one of Victoria's prominent citizens, who realized the "new means of transporting ships across land" are not new, and were more or less old news when talked about 60 odd years ago.

Dr. E. C. Hart, who was a clerk of the House of Commons in his younger days, recalls some debates in which a "ship railway" was the principal subject. It was not so ambitious as this Theauantepec project, but it was identical in principle.

It seems that in the early eighties there had been some agitation for a canal across the Isthmus of Chignecto, where the narrow stretch of land joining the maritime provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is only a matter of 20 odd miles from salt water to salt water.

Cutting a canal through this Isthmus of Chignecto would have facilitated the movement of sailing ships and floating vessels both from St. John, quite an important port when ships were wind-driven, and Massachussetts ports to the fertile fishing grounds of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and the vicinity of Newfoundland, doing away with the outside passage and expediting movement of fish to market.

Not at all clear what effect the cutting of a canal from the headwaters of the Bay of Fundy into Northumberland Strait would have on the "bore" racing up Fundy at certain stages of the tide, the canal proposal had met with little favor among prominent Canadians of the time, and nothing was done. Then a group of Atlantic States' promoters suggested a "ship railway" was the feasible alternative to the canal scheme, in the operation of which the tides would not be a factor.

A similar plan had been proposed to the U.S. Congress some time previously. This was to join Atlantic and Pacific waters through Central America. Congress hadn't approved. Their plan met with more favor in Canada, the Federal Government agreeing to subsidize the building and operation. The work was actually started and the right-of-way assured. The operating plan called for six sets of rails on which the trucks carrying the ship or dock with the securely blocked-up ships were to run.

Although the right-of-way was established and cleared out (Dr. Hart recalls crossing it during a visit to Nova Scotia in 1916) the Chignecto Railway never became a "going concern." Just what interfered with its completion is not quite clear. Dr. Hart's recollection is that the promoters used up their subsidies on the right-of-way, and on applying for more funds were refused. And maybe, while it looked all right on paper and sound enough in theory, it lacked possibilities of performance on second thought.

The motive planned for such a project could well have been a problem which might have had some bearing on the decision to refuse the application for more money although the 20 odd-mile strip between Cumberland Basin and Baie Verte is comparatively level. Locomotives were to supply the hauling power for the Chignecto Ship Railway.

Motive power might also pose a problem in connection with the Mexican project across the Isthmus of Tehuantepec. Although not mentioned, its character must have been decided on. At that, one might be pardoned for being curious to know the size of the machine or machines developing horsepower sufficient to draw 15,000-ton ships 155 miles over land with elevations of 700 feet every day of the year, and still earn money for the operators.

Half U.S. Aid to Greece Would Be for Army

By DAN ANDERSON
North American Newspaper Alliance

NEW YORK, March 17—Half the $250,000,000 which President Truman wishes Congress to vote for aid to Greece would be devoted to arming and training that nation's army so that it could crush Communist guerrilla bands, it was learned today.

An informed person whose identity could not be disclosed added the remaining half of the money would be used in economic rehabilitation, but pointed out that as long as Greece is weak in one way, she cannot be strong in another. The effect of any aid to the nation, as well as the proposed $150,000,000 assistance to Turkey, would therefore be to make strong bulwarks in the Middle East against Soviet pressure or even aggression.

A state department spokesman authorized for quotation today the assertion that the United States considers its security linked with that of Turkey. Mr. Truman's coupling of aid to the two nations in his message to Congress obviously placed Greece in the same class.

The informant said that the United States is not expected to impose flat conditions on Greece in return for the assistance. He predicted, however, that the injection of American technical advisers and administrators into the Greek Government would be likely to result in many changes there.

Greeks, he pointed out, have long had a reputation for individualism, and even now, for instance, the nation imposes no income tax, or, the ground that to do so would be to interfere with private enterprise. Imposition of an income tax and institution of various types of control would probably follow on American entrance into the Greek situation, he said.

Asked whether there would be pressure for changes in the present Greek Government, he said that the United States presumably would avoid that, as it also would seek to avoid the appearance of control over Greek trade.

He pointed out that the secretary of state recently said that the present Greek Government is the kind that this nation likes to see, and the informant asserted that it is considered to represent the free will of 85 per cent of the Greeks, the 15 per cent being the Leftists who boycotted the March election.

Changes in the Government's attitude and ways are more likely than alterations in its make-up, he said, but added that the Greeks may themselves wish to put in a new one after a taste of American reforms.

Asked why the Greek army of 100,000 men cannot now put down guerrillas believed to number between 10,000 and 12,000, he said that it was partly because of their lack of arms and training which the United States would provide, and also because of faulty communications. Part of the economic rehabilitation would be construction of better roads and similar facilities, which would also be of military use, he pointed out. A vicious circle was sketched, in which Greece, worst war-damaged nation in the area, cannot recreate its strength because of the ferment which the guerrillas keep stirring up, and therefore cannot put the guerrillas down.

It is difficult if not impossible to say how long the rebuilding of Greece would require, he declared, but mentioned two or three years as a minimum period. However the second instalment of money for aid would not have to be as large as the proposed $250,00,000.

Dispatch of United States troops to Greece would be a last resort, not now contemplated, he said, adding that withdrawal of British troops would be a help to the nation, which now has to support them. A strengthened Greek army would take over the duties now discharged by the British, he explained.

In Turkey, the situation is by no means so desperate as that in Greece, he asserted. The aid, would, however, enable Turkey to make stronger an already "pretty good" army, and thus make it an even more effective barrier against a sudden thrust than it now is.

FOOD TO BRITAIN

Sir,—No doubt all right-thinking Canadians will agree with your editorial of this morning, that every possible assistance should be sent over to the Old Country in the way of food parcels, etc., in their time of dire need," but this is only a palliative and a partial one at that, and is not in any way a solution to this most serious world situation. What happens to the millions over there who do not receive any parcels?

Why does not Canada, of her plenty, ration all her people to the same extent as the people of the Mother Country are rationed, and send the surplus to relieve their need?

Why does not Canada forget the shorter-hours-urge for a while, and put forth her utmost effort to produce both foodstuffs and other badly needed goods and materials, so as to help make up the enormous shortage over there?

Why does not Canada prepare to receive immigrants from those hard-pressed areas, opening her doors to the highest type of immigrant she can find there and, going out of her way to welcome them, open up farms and resources for them?

Why do we not all get out of the palliating habit, and look for the cure? E. W. ABRAHAM.

"WINSTON MICAWBER"

Sir,—Personally I cannot see that "Low's cartoon" is so far out of focus as made out.

With the position of Mr. Churchill's party in the Commons as a minority group, is he not in the position of awaiting Attlee's group to come a cropper, as they nearly did in the coal crisis?

There is not much that Mr. Churchill can do, but "wait and see" what may "turn up."

Mr. Churchill has been lambasted so often and so long, that his resiliency should be a lesson to all. How about Low's famous cartoon of "Winny" with a corporal's guard? He as the Napoleonic attitudinizing leader (another Micawber character, did he not wait behind Calais looking at the "white cliffs of Dover" for something to "turn up"?), button nose, pillbox hat, cigar and his own smile, with the late "F. E. Smith" cigar and very far gone, as a guardsman. Lord Birkenhead on being shown the cartoon, handed it to "Winny" with the remark: "You are the only one complimented." That is the attitude with a political cartoon. The cartoon can be seen in the biographical "Life of Lord Birkenhead" or in "Punch."

According to an interpretation of a statement in the House of Commons by Dr. J. J. McCann, Minister of National Revenue, 1942 refundable portion of income tax will be repaid before March 31, 1948; the 1943 portion before March 31, 1949 and the 1944 portion before March 31, 1950. The Dominion Government should pay interest on the money it is withholding from taxpayers.

The Province of Bombay, India, expects to have total prohibition by 1951. It will be brought about by reducing the consumption of liquor 25 per cent per year for four years, and by setting shorter hours for stores where intoxicants are sold. Population of the province is 22,000,000.

Teheran, capital of Iran, has a population of 800,000, yet water is still brought to the city from the mountains in open ditches. A British engineering company plans to start construction of modern water and drainage systems next month.

Ontario will import natural gas from Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas by means of a 1,300-mile pipe line laid under the Detroit River last year. Gas will flow at a pressure of 500 pounds per square inch from April to November when United States demands on natural gas are low. It will be stored 2,000 feet underground in depleted gas wells of Dawn Township, near Sarnia.

A financial expert gave the following explanation of the reason for a discount on the Canadian dollar at New York: "The Canadian dollar was restored to parity last July. The market at New York accounts for about 2 per cent of Canadian-American exchange transactions. The Canadian Government declines to convert into United States funds the dollars received by non-residents in certain capital transactions. If they want United States funds for the Canadian dollars, they have to take what they can get for them on the open market. Demand determines the price set at New York."

Body Will Seek Lease of Huts At Gordon Head

Application will be made to the Department of Veterans' Affairs by the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council to obtain a lease of the army huts at Gordon Head for conversion into family housing units, according to an announcement by executives of the council.

For the conversion work, an application will be made to the Central Mortgage & Housing Corporation for $30,000.

Officials of the council inspected the huts a short time ago and said they were suitable for conversion into housing units at a comparatively small cost.

The Rehabilitation Council now has more than 800 applications on file from veterans' families. In converted military establishments in the Victoria area, the council has already provided housing for 150 families.

At seven of the eight tables East-West reached six diamonds and took all 13 tricks, thus earning a total of 1,390 points. (No North-South pair was foolish enough to double.) At the eighth table the bidding was:

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Double	4 ♥	5 ♦
Pass	Pass	5 ♥	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

It was overly timid of West to pass his partner's five-diamond bid, but it was also lucky, because North's persistence to five hearts gave East-West the opportunity for an absolute "top."

West avoided one pitfall when he led a low diamond instead of the spade king he might have chosen, but he fell squarely into another trap. East won with the diamond ace and returned the club deuce. West won, and instead of leading a club right back, woodenly laid down the spade king—perhaps to "show East just how the land lay." Then he led a club. East ruffed, but now he could put West back on lead only once, with a spade, and only one more club ruff could be secured. South was down 1,100 points, but this was a zero for East-West.

It was absurd for West to take an entry out of his own hand, which he did when he led the spade king. East could have ruffed three clubs for a 1,400-point penalty and a "top."

Plant Ready to Handle Huge Quantity of Fish

B.C. Packers Ltd., at Ogden Point, is a large firm with faith in the future of this city as a major fishing port.

Although Winter months put a comparative standstill to usual operations, the lull was used to full advantage by officials of the company who are now busy completing elaborate preparations for the forthcoming commercial fishing season.

Thousands of dollars have been spent at the establishment. New machinery and other equipment has been installed, and existent units have been completely overhauled and made ready for the heavy season now anticipated in all lines of commercial fishing.

Douglas Souter, associated with the firm for the past eight years and now manager, said yesterday his firm was ready to handle every fish that is brought to this port, if necessary.

Three large compressors have been completely checked, and John Fenwick, in charge of the engine room during the day shift, reports a fourth compressor will soon be installed. These units are used to make tons of ice, coat all parts of the plant, and to lower the temperature of the "quick freeze" department to between 35 and 40 degrees below zero.

For the comfort and enjoyment of the firm's many women employees, a large and brightly decorated lunch and locker room has been built adjacent to the main building.

In Summer months, at the peak of the fishing season, as many as 40 women are employed at the firm. In all, nearly 100 persons have full time jobs at B.C. Packers Ltd. when fish are being brought to the company's dockside in big packers from all parts of the West Coast and other nearby waters.

Ice facilities of the establishment are ready to supply all the ice needed by outgoing packers. Through arrangements now completed, it is possible to load 10 tons of ground ice to the hold of a packer in less than 20 minutes. Yesterday, according to R. M. Gosse, assistant manager, there were at least 1,180 tons of ice on hand. Blocks of ice weighing 300 pounds are made quickly at the plant when the demand arises. They are handled by winches and special elevators, and placed in huge storage quarters where temperatures are maintained at far below the freezing mark.

In sections of the building used for fish storage are now about 2,000,000 pounds of frozen salmon, ling cod, sole, herring, and numerous other fish products. The fish were landed last year. This Summer, Mr. Gosse said, it is possible the plant will have more than 4,000,000 pounds of fish in cold storage at one time.

Big operations will get underway in the first week of May. The halibut season opens May 1, and a large fleet is now ready for that date. Fish of this kind weighing more than 250 pounds are not an unusual sight at the plant.

Joint Use of Docks Discussed

Possible joint use of Ogden Point dock facilities by the Canadian National Railways and Canadian Pacific Railway was discussed yesterday at a City Hall meeting between R. C. Vaughan, president of the C.N.R.; Mayor Percy E. George and Alderman W. L. Morgan, chairman of the city harbor committee.

(For some time harbor committees of both the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce have advocated joint use of the docks by ships of both companies.)

Mr. Vaughan, interviewed at the conclusion of the morning meeting, remarked it had been "most satisfactory." He added that his company had always been willing to allow any other company use of the docks at Ogden Point "under reasonable terms."

"We have not, as yet, been approached by the C.P.R. on this matter," he said yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Vaughan was asked: "If the C.P.R. did approach your firm, do you think some suitable arrangement could be made in this regard?"

"I can't answer that," he replied.

SILENT GLOW OIL BURNERS are back again in British Columbia!

That's good news for British Columbians, as many letters we receive testify. Here's a typical one, dated Jan. 21, 1947 (name of correspondent on request):

"I installed burner C98089 in my kitchen range on October 12, 1933 and it has been a comfort and household blessing ever since. Out on the Pacific Coast our winters are very mild and most of the winter we can get by with one burner turned low sufficient to provide breakfast comfort in addition to a tank of hot water and kettle boiling when we get up in the morning. After thirteen years continuous use the two sets of shells are still in good condition.

Silent Glow is easy on oil — gives faster, easier, cleaner heat in your range. It was the first range burner to be approved by National Research Council, Ottawa — 1933. Approved in 1946 by Canadian Standards Association, National Research Bldg., Ottawa.

Mrs. Ford Heads Municipal Chapter

Mrs. J. L. Ford was named regent by acclamation at the 35th annual meeting of Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., held in the Knights of Pythias Hall yesterday. Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, retiring regent, was in the chair.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. C. L. Bishop, first vice-regent; Mrs. P. Cunningham, second vice-regent; Mrs. H. L. Woolison, treasurer; Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, organizing secretary; Mrs. A. Mainprize, standard bearer, all by acclamation, and Mrs. G. B. Elliott, secretary; Mrs. W. E. Hobbs, educational secretary, and Mrs. L. A. Lucas, Echoes secretary.

In giving the secretary's report, Mrs. C. H. Cross, reported that there are 13 primary chapters and three junior chapters which come under the jurisdiction of Municipal Chapter, and that another junior chapter, H.M.C.S. Naden Junior Chapter, recently received its charter.

Mrs. Cross stressed the part Municipal Chapter is playing with regard to the publication of literature detrimental to adolescent children in the country. She spoke of the interest shown by chapter members in the matter of raising old-age pensions and announced that the chapter was in favor of providing better housing facilities for veterans and their families.

MEMORIAL FUND IS NOW $4,691.80

A junior crafts schol was sponsored and three rooms in the maternity ward at the Jubilee Hospital furnished, and the I.O.D.E. Second War Memorial Fund has already received $4,691.80.

The chapter participated in Memorial Day services by decorating graves and the Cross of Sacrifice at Ross Bay; held a garden party for wives and children of servicemen from overseas; conducted a drive during the Summer months for the Jessie R. Burke Cancer Fund which amounted to $1,097.71, held an Alexandria Rose Day tag day which netted $414.02 and sponsored an Autumn fair which totaled $1,916.33.

In addition to postwar work, donations have been made to secondary education and a medical student and two students of music have received monetary support. Assistance has been given to Mary Croft Memorial cot at the Solarium, milk supplied undernourished children of school age; milk, cod liver oil, clothing and layettes given to needy families; patients at the T.B. Pavilion at the Jubilee Hospital and other sufferers have been assisted and support has been given to blind citizens.

During the year Municipal Chapter entertained a number of prominent persons including Lady Reading, head of the Women's Voluntary Services in Great Britain; Miss Brierly, in charge of Dockland Settlements in London; Lady Alexander, wife of the Governor-General of Canada, and Mrs. Charles A. Banks, wife of the recently appointed Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, who is honorary president of Provincial Chapter of the I.O.D.E.

The educational secretary's report, prepared by Mrs. E. F. Beckett, showed a total of $3,185.70. Eight bursaries were presented, also one scholarship at Victoria College amounting to $765, the Mervin Cummins Fund $962.74, leaving a balance of $1,457.96.

MRS. PHIPPS RECEIVES LIFE MEMBERSHIP

During the afternoon Mrs. A. H. C. Phipps, retiring regent, was presented with a life membership by Mrs. W. M. Martin, provincial president, and on behalf of the members, Mrs. W. C. Nichol, first vice-regent, presented Mrs. Phipps with an English pocketbook and bouquet.

Mrs. Phipps spoke briefly and thanked her executive and all members for their support during her term of office. She stressed the importance of work accomplished during the war years and pointed out that there was still a great deal to be done. She said that each member first as a woman, and then as part of a great organization, has an important part to play in the postwar world.

"It is only through individuals working together with a unity of purpose for peace," she said. "Peace in their own minds, their homes and then in the world at large, that we can hope to assist in fostering unity within the Empire and throughout the world."

Reports of the standing committees were presented by Mrs. F. E. Dowdall, postwar service; Mrs. Geo. Mellor, child and family welfare; Mrs. R. Shanks, work in India; Mrs. G. At the Theatres

Barbara Stanwyck Stars at the Dominion

When Samuel Goldwyn assembled the cast for the production of "Stella Dallas," which is the attraction at the Dominion Theatre beginning today, his choice for the title role of "Stella Dallas" was only made after viewing numerous candidates for the coveted role.

Miss Stanwyck's interpretation won her the role, and those who have seen her portrayal of the poignant and tensely dramatic theme agree that she reaches supreme heights of histrionic expression.

Co-starring with Miss Stanwyck are John Boles and Anne Shirley.

PLAZA THEATRE "Angel On My Shoulder," now showing at the Plaza Theatre, is a fantastic, romantic comedy - drama with its opening scenes laid in Hades. Mr. Rains is cast as the Devil, who returns to earth with one of his newest recruits, played by Mr. Muni, in order that both of them can even up some old scores.

CAPITOL THEATRE By virtue of getting the part of Al Jolson as a boy in Columbia's big Technicolor cavalcade, "The Jolson Story," current at the Capitol Theatre, Scotty Beckett recently moved into what he thinks is a Hollywood championship. No less than five leading screen actors have had the boyish counterpart of their roles portrayed on the screen by young Beckett.

Amusements

ON THE SCREEN

Atlas—Barbara Stanwyck and Van Heflin in "The Strange Love of Martha Ivers."

Capitol—"The Jolson Story," starring Larry Parks.

Dominion — "Stella Dallas," Barbara Stanwyck and John Boles.

Oak Bay — "Dead of Night," starring Michael Redgrave and Mervyn Johns.

Plaza—Paul Muni in "Angel on My Shoulder."

Rio—Humphrey Bogart in "To Have and Have Not."

Royal—"13 Rue Madeleine," starring James Cagney and Annabella.

York—Jennifer Jones and Joseph Cotten in "Love Letters."

An Espionage Story Starring James Cagney

"13 Rue Madeleine," opening today at the Royal Victoria, provides James Cagney with his finest role in a long time. He gives a dynamic and exciting performance as the two-fisted instructor who is forced into a blood-chilling adventure when Allied plans are threatened by a possible leak. Annabella is superb as the dauntless patriot who plays the dangerous game of counterespionage. Richard Conte displays peak talent as the Nazi assigned to ferret out vital information.

OAK BAY THEATRE An original picture, a strange and eerie film that no one will be likely to forget for quite a while is "Dead of Night," which is now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. "Dead of Night" is a tale with a flavor all its own. It is, in fact, four tales, each an excursion into the supernatural. These dramas are put together in clever fashion, fitting neatly into each other. The ending uses a fragment of each in extraordinarily effective manner.

YORK THEATRE Gladys Cooper, once known as London's most beautiful woman, is now a Hollywood favorite. In one of her first American motion pictures, "Now Voyager," Miss Cooper won an Academy Award nomination for her outstanding supporting performance. Now, in "Love Letters," Paramount's Hal Wallis production, now at the York Theatre, she plays an important role with stars Jennifer Jones and Joseph Cotten in the lead.

Standing of Loan Queried in House

Opposition members in the Legislature yesterday wanted to know what happened to the $85,000 the Government loaned the Fraser Valley Co-operative Flax Producers' Association.

Agriculture Minister Putnam replied that the balance sheet for 1945 was not yet at hand. The Government, however, expected $4,000 or $5,000 repayment this year.

For Brides-Elect

Honoring Miss Dorothy Smith, an April bride-to-be, Miss Elsie Foster entertained recently at the home of her parents on the Island Highway. Gifts for a miscellaneous shower were concealed in a box decorated in green and white. A corsage of white camellias and carnations was presented to the guest of honor, and her mother received pink roses and violets. The guests were Mrs. Vernon Smith, Mrs. R. Foster and Misses Margaret Yates, Joan Bird, Margaret Bell, Betty Clegg and Pat Gawe.

On Saturday afternoon Mrs. John L. Bowden and Miss Clare Hoult were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the former's home, 412 Lampson Street, in honor of Miss Mollie Mitchell, who is being married shortly. A corsage of gardenias and Talisman roses was presented to the bride-elect, and later she discovered her many gifts hidden in a miniature logging-operations camp. The guests who included her associates in the Forest Service of the Provincial Government, were: Mrs. P. M. Eldridge, Mrs. Enid Green, Mrs. E. Dare and Misses Marjorie Palmer, Enes Mitchell, Rhoda Goward, Norah Shipiruk, Phyllis Christian, Winnie Featherstone, Norah Hughes, Irene Reid, Leola Riddle, Beth Allhouse, Eileen James, Ruth Veitch, Audrey Gray.

Honoring Mrs. J. Horne, a recent bride, Mrs. B. Duncan and Mrs. G. Duncan entertained at a shower at the home of the latter recently. Upon arrival the bride was presented with a bouquet of daffodils, white freesia and violets, and the many gifts were concealed in a basket decorated in mauve and white. Guests included Mrs. A. Snelling, Mrs. Horne Sr., Mrs. R. Duncan, Mrs. W. Duncan, Mrs. S. Barker, Mrs. J. Cairns, Mrs. R. Lapp, Mrs. W. Hitchin, Mrs. G. Barker, Miss Betty Horne and Miss Pat Snelling.

Fail to Change City Policy On New Home

Despite a petition from 124 residents in the neighborhood of Coldharbor Road, about half of them taxpayers, protesting the city's acquisition of a foster home for juvenile delinquents, the City Council made no move to change its policy yesterday.

The home was purchased last week by the city on behalf of the four Greater Victoria municipalities after a year and a half of effort to obtain a suitable building.

Provision of a home for juveniles awaiting disposition by the court is mandatory under law, although this law has been broken for some years past by Greater Victoria municipalities by housing juveniles in the city jail.

Alderman Mrs. Margaret Christie, city representative on the inter-municipal committee handling the purchase, stated the home would not be a detriment to the district or depreciate property values as claimed in the petition.

Meanwhile, acting on another suggestion contained in the petition, the council decided to ask the Federal Government whether the former anti-gas school at Naden could be purchased.

The petition stated several of the signees would be willing to buy the property from the city.

NO. 81—EIGHTY-NINTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 18, 1947

City to Help Maintain Bowling Green

After a 50-minute discussion yesterday the City Council decided to take over maintenance of the greens of the Victoria Lawn Bowling Club, with the club to make a yearly contribution of $1,200 towards the cost.

The city will bear the balance of maintenance which, according to W. H. Warren, parks superintendent, will amount to $2,200. Members of the council acknowledge that their action set a precedent and that the council would probably have to take similar action for the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club.

Speaking on the motion, Ald. R. A. C. Dewar pointed out the city spent hundreds of dollars maintaining football fields without any contribution from those playing and that lawn bowlers should have an equal claim for support.

The council action followed presentation of a brief from H. A. Beckwith and representations from W. G. Hinton, vice-president of the club, and R. H. Harrison, a member.

Anglers to Hold Annual Meeting

One of the largest turnouts in the club's history is expected when the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association hold its annual general meeting at the Chamber of Commerce auditorium tonight at 8.

One of the items on the heavy agenda will be the proposed amendment to the constitution calling for the raising of the annual fee to $3, with $2 to be earmarked for the construction of a permanent clubhouse at Brentwood.

U.S.G.A. Moves To Simplify Golfing Rules

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP).—The first changes in the rules of golf since 1934 were put into the book by The United States Golf Association today with the main emphasis on simplifying the playing code.

Adopted last year but withheld until today by the U.S.G.A. to obtain the views of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland, the revision cuts the rules from 61 to 21. Definitions directly applying to the rules have been placed with those rules to make references easier. The new code is effective today.

The old index of about 900 items has been replaced by an index of 73 listings, a major operation by the golfing powers.

Under the new code, the penalty for an out-of-bounds ball is loss of distance only. Before, the player lost both distance and a stroke.

For artificial obstructions the new rules read:

"Except in a hazard, if a ball is within two-club-length of an immovable obstruction, it may be lifted without a penalty and dropped at the nearest point not in a hazard and not nearer the hole which permits the player to take his stance and to make his complete stroke in the direction he wishes to play from such stance without interference by the obstruction with the anticipated flight of the ball."

Under the rules governing form and make of golf clubs and balls, the ruling body struck a severe blow at the casual golfer who played or planned to play with one or two clubs with interchangeable parts.

The U.S.G.A. says the following new sections are now in force:

"The grip shall consist of a plain extension of the shaft to which material may be added for the purpose of obtaining a firmer hold." (This prohibits grips of odd sizes and shapes).

"A club shall be one unit. All its various parts shall be permanently fixed. No part may be movable or separable or capable of adjustment by the player."

Youths Learn Proper Method of Handling Firearms

SECRETARY Bill Lucas is seen recording scores made by youthful members of the training class in care and handling of weapons held by the Vancouver Island Rifle and Gun Club on Sunday at the club grounds. Target competition was one of the more interesting phases of the training that the boys took part in on Sunday. More than 100 youths who attended the class heard Detective Sergeant J. Young, of the Provincial Police, give an excellent talk on the handling of rifles, emphasizing the fact that one careless move could turn a happy hunting trip into a tragedy. Game Warden George Stevenson thoroughly explained the game laws and the necessity of conforming to them, interjecting humorous incidents that brought chuckles from his keen listeners. Next class will be held on Sunday, March 30.

After Oak Bay had twice taken the lead, Victoria Wests eleven came from behind to win Sunday's match at Royal Athletic Park 4-3 and take over first place in the Victoria and District Football standings. Wests are now two points up on the second-place Canadian Legion, who can tie Wests by defeating Oak Bay in the final contest of the half. Wests won the first half in a sudden-death game with the veterans.

Earl Barnswell's timely counter 10 minutes from the end of Sunday's match gave the greenshirts the hard-earned victory.

Noel Morgan opened scoring for Oak Bay when he made good a penalty award against Cooper for charging, but Wests came back with the equalizer on Okell's counter on a pass from McMillan. A great first-timer by Doug. Ghent gave greenshirts the lead at the half.

Early in the second half Oak Bay's Harry Barber put his team in the lead with two quick goals. Wests tied the score again on Scotty Robinson's tally from a scramble in front of the net, and then Barnswell broke up the tight tussle with a stinging shot from close in.

TOAST and TEA

By J. V. McAREE

CAMPBELL-BANNERMAN entered the Cabinet for the first time as Secretary of War in 1886 in Gladstone's third administration, says a story in The Spectator. When the King's Speech was under consideration it was found to contain a Latin quotation, and the new Secretary of War made bold to question its accuracy. His colleagues were aghast at his temerity, but the classicist Prime Minister received the suggestion with urbanity. "Bring me," he said to his secretary, "the Martial I was using yesterday." The volume appeared and was carefully consulted. "I find," said the Prime Minister, "that the Secretary of War is perfectly right." But," he added, glaring round the table, "the words are taken from a poem which no decent man ought to read."

Canadiens Edge Rangers As Game Ends in Brawl

Boston	25	22	11	181	169	61

Chicago	16	33	4	182	259	36

Sunday's scores: Canadiens 4, Rangers 3; Boston 5, Toronto 3; Detroit 10, Chicago 6.
Games this week: Wednesday, Canadiens at Toronto, Rangers at Detroit, Chicago at Boston; Saturday, Chicago at Canadiens, Rangers at Toronto.

New York Rangers' chances for a play-off spot were practically eliminated Sunday when the Gothamites suffered their second week-end loss to Montreal Canadiens by a one-goal margin, losing, 4-3, at New York in a game that was marked by the most savage brawl in years.

The wild battle broke loose in the last minute of the game when Defenceman Ken Reardon, of Canadiens, had been injured by Bryan Hextall, of Rangers. As Reardon was helped from the ice with blood dripping from his mouth, a spectator sitting behind the Ranger bench made some unpleasant remarks and Reardon leaped at him. In a moment about 20 players of both teams were battling. The Canadiens surged into the Ranger bench en masse and began swinging sticks and fists at spectators and Rangers alike.

The fight went on for ten minutes, with Bill Juzda, of the Rangers, getting a terrific working over. Richard, Juzda and Chamberlain drew misconduct penalties.

Rangers, trailing the fourth-place Detroit by five points, need to win all three of their remaining games, while Wings lose both of theirs, in order to grab the fourth spot. By their win Canadiens clinched the league title and the Prince of Wales Trophy for the fourth straight season.

Detroit came through with their second high-scoring triumph over the cellar-dwelling Chicago Black Hawks, winning, 10-6, at Chicago after trouncing the Hawks, 8-3, on Saturday.

In the third game Sunday, Boston defeated Toronto, 5-3. It was Bruins' ninth straight game without a setback.

Woodcock Bout Winner to Get Shot at Louis

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP).—Joe Louis' only heavyweight title defence for 1947 will be made June 26 in Yankee Stadium, with the winner of the forthcoming bout in London between Bruce Woodcock and Joe Baksi as the likely "catcher" for that evening.

While the Brown Bomber was brushing up on his golf in Los Angeles, his managers Marshall Miles and John Roxborough dropped into Promoter Mike Jacobs' offices and announced plans for his 24th defence in the record run as king of the ring that Joe began by taking the crown from old Jim Braddock in 1937.

They virtually ruled out all other potential challengers except the survivor in the oft-postponed match between the British Empire champion and the Kulpmont, Pa., coal miner.

The latest date set for that one is April 15, but word has drifted across the Atlantic that it has run into more squalls, and today Promoter Jack Solomons called in all distributed tickets to foil burglars who stole 400 of the pasteboards from his office.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION AT CHEMAINUS SAWMILL

PHOTOGRAPH shows the safety board at the Chemainus plant of the Victoria Lumber Co., Ltd. For purposes of accident prevention, the mill is divided into seven departments—sawmill, yard, planer, shed, shop, powerhouse and miscellaneous. When an employee is drawing compensation for an accident, or loses more than three days' work through a mishap, a red light replaces a green light on the board. The board has columns to show compensation accidents for the current month, total work days lost, during the month, total work days lost to date, and possible work days since the last compensation accident. Cash prizes are awarded from a company pool to promote safety consciousness.

Free Trips for Best Contributions Stimulate Keen Interest in Safety

By MRS. J. R. ROBINSON

CHEMAINUS, March 17.—Victoria Lumber Co., Ltd., Chemainus plant is divided into seven separate departments, and for each department the safety board has an electric light socket and column. As long as a department is accident free, a green light burns. When a man has a compensable, or more than three-day loss of time accident, a red light burns until he returns to work. Then the green light is again replaced and the score shown on columns provided for the purpose.

The first column on the board shows compensable accidents for the current month. The second lists compensable accidents since start of the year. The third shows days lost due to accidents during the current month. The fourth shows working days lost since start of the year, and the fifth shows total possible working days since the last compensable accident.

At the start of every year the Victoria Lumber Co., Ltd., places approximately $1 per payroll man in the fund. This year the amount donated was $550. Accident deductions are based on the corresponding quota number of accidents of previous year in that quarter. Last year accidents for the first quarter totaled 21, that this figure will be used to work out accident deductions from the $550 total for the first quarter.

Amount remaining in the pool at the end of the quarter is drawn for by lot by all departments, the prizes being a number of $10 bills and one or two larger amounts. Every employee in plant and office has an equal chance to win.

Total amount is put up each time by the company without donations of any kind other than safety consciousness on the part of the employees.

To stimulate interest of employees in safety measures, the company makes a selection each six months of the two men on the plant and two at the Copper Canyon logging operations who have contributed the most to accident prevention. They enjoy a free trip of four days, with all expenses and wages paid, to the other H. R. McMillan interests. In this connection, the winners of the first quarter, Orval Delcourt, understaker man; Charles Allen, electrician; John Ulinder and Raymond Roy, Copper Canyon Camp, recently left on a visit to other McMillan operations as a reward for outstanding safety contributions.

Each department in the plant has a safety committee, consisting of foreman and one man chosen each month, while in camp equal numbers of supervisors and men form the committee. These committees meet in company time each month to discuss safety regulations and suggestions for betterment of conditions. Should a meeting be held in other than working hours the men receive hourly pay while attending such conferences.

The fact that the employee is the gainer on every score is creating a keen interest in the prevention of accidents. The safety board posts National Safety Bulletins as well as a recapitulation of every compensable accident, together with name, department involved, nature of accident, and how sustained.

The same procedure is carried out at Fanny Bay and Copper Canyon logging operations. Their boards and allocations are entirely separate from those of the Chemainus plant and are based on their own quotas.

Council Talks About Budget

NANAIMO, March 17. — Faced by increased costs of maintenance this year, Nanaimo City Council today spent a great deal of time discussing budget plans at its regular meeting.

Ald. Earl Westwood, chairman of the finance committee, stated that in drawing up a tentative budget he had found a deficit of some $26,000, and that how this could be made up was problematical. He instanced increased expenditures necessary. Civic workmen will receive $14,500 more in wages, there will be an increase of $10,000 in school costs, policing will cost $4,000 more, and fire hall improvements another $6,000. Fortunately there had been a surplus of $15,000 last year.

Ald. J. Wilson suggested an increased cost on services supplied by the city, aside from the raising of taxes. Mayor Muir suggested that unless the finance committee "had an ace in the hole," a tax raise seemed inevitable.

The council was asked by a committee from the Canadian Legion Branch to help in having names of local soldiers killed in the last war added to the War Memorial. The request was referred to the rehabilitation committee.

In reply to a query from the secretary of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities as to their attitude regarding the Government's interpretation of implementing the Goldenberg Report, Mayor Muir suggested that it was not altogether satisfactory, especially regarding school costs.

Following 38 years of service with the city as public works superintendent, J. D. Shepherd is to retire shortly. The council decided to appoint an assistant at a salary of $150 per month, to be increased to $160 after six months.

Pearkes Suggests Bulb Inspection

OTTAWA, March 17.—Maj.-Gen. George R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P., was informed by Agriculture Minister James Gardiner that an inspection service for the British Columbia bulb industry is likely to be established next year.

On behalf of the Saanich Bulb Growers' Association, Maj.-Gen. Pearkes has been urging the setting up of a proper inspection service at the earliest possible date. The bulb industry on Vancouver Island, he portant, and Government action was essential so that bulbs would be able to enter into fair competition with those grown anywhere in the world.

After considering the representations, the minister advised Maj.-Gen. Pearkes that officials felt new appointees could be assigned for training during the grading and shipping season, and so become familiar with proposed standards "with the idea that an inspection service could be completely effective in 1948."

In another move to promote the Vancouver Island bulb industry, Maj.-Gen. Pearkes proposed to the National Film Board the production and wide distribution of a film showing Vancouver Island bulbs in bloom. The board stated it was willing to provide extensive distribution in Canada and abroad of a film dealing with the Canadian industry. It suggested that bulb growing was a regional industry, and it might be more proper that the industry itself should commission the preparation of a commercial film.

Story of Holding Up Stores Told in Court by Juveniles

A story of holding up and robbing at the point of a gun the proprietors of stores in this city and in Duncan on two successive week-ends was told in city police court yesterday by two juveniles, testifying during the preliminary hearing of Daniel Doore and Stewart Thomas, charged with armed robbery and theft of an automobile.

Both accused were committed for trial in a higher court at the conclusion of the hearing. Further charges against the four boys will be heard later in the week.

One of the juveniles, whose case is being dealt with in juvenile court, said he accompanied Doore, Thomas and Robert Davis to Duncan on the night of March 10.

Asked by city prosecutor what took place in the Up-Island city that night, the youth answered: "We robbed a store."

He said he had acted as a lookout while Doore and Thomas entered a store on Kenneth Street, held up Wong Poy, Chinese fruit merchant, and escaped with between $20 and $30. He identified the gun used during the robbery and said he had given it to Doore and Thomas some time previously.

Davis told the court he had been the driver of an automobile which carried the quartette to Duncan.

On arrival they had "driven around looking for a place to raid," he said.

"We saw this Chinese joint, so we stopped." He stated that Doore, Thomas and the fourth member of the group had left the car while he stayed with it. He said he saw the holdup so could not tell the court what took place, he declared.

Stanley Bennett, a logger, of Duncan testified he had seen three youths approach the store and identified the young lookout man.

Constable John Lockie and Detective Constable Elmer Holm of the B.C. Police stated they had arrested four boys in a stolen car at a Government Street service station Monday night. The former identified in court a .45 calibre revolver which he said he picked up, fully loaded, from the front seat of the car.

A similar tale was told of the robbery of Mrs. Laura Matthews, proprietor of a small store at 246 Cook Street, on March 1. As in the previous case, Doore and Thomas were named as the actual holdup men, with Davis as driver of the car and the fourth member of the group as lookout.

Mrs. Matthews testified that about 8:30 p.m. she was alone in the front of the store but had visiting her a friend, Miss Edith Barnes, who was in a back room.

Two young men entered and asked for gum, she said. While getting the order from a showcase, one of the bandits came around the edge of the counter and pointed a gun at her, she testified.

"I screamed," she said, "and called to my friend in the back room, who came to the doorway."

The gunman followed the two women into the back room, still pointing the gun, it was stated, but returned to the front of the store when told by Miss Barnes to "take what you want but leave us alone."

He scooped about $50 from the cash box and left, Mrs. Matthews related.

Questioned concerning the circumstances leading up to the robbery, Davis at first said he could not remember what had taken place, but later admitted the four "had pulled a job in a little store on Cook Street." As before, he said he had stayed in the car and did not see what took place in the store.

Patton reported the council could raise the licence fee but could not, without being guilty of discrimination, pass any restrictive by-laws.

Suggestion from H. Cuthbert Holmes that the city purchase war-time houses for eventual use as homes for pensioners and other low-income groups was tabled by the council when it was pointed out the city had no power to make the purchase for a number of years. Under the city contract with Wartime Housing Ltd., however, the homes in James Bay and Victoria West may now be sold to tenants.

The council shelved a request from the Victoria Labor Council, (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) for proclamation of a half-day civic holiday May 1. In a letter to the council, Robert Mezgar, secretary of the union today said a parade of workers and a mass rally in Beacon Hill Park were planned. The request will be considered at a later meeting.

Crescent Shows was granted permission to use Blanchard Street this year for its annual show at the time of the May 24 celebrations. Ald Dr. J. D. Hunter said that if he was public works committee chairman again next year, no such permission will be granted. He indicated the concession had been made this year on the urging of the May 24 celebration committee.

Council approved $250 expenditure, for removing and repair of grain spouts at the Ogden Point grain elevator.

At the recommendation of the parks committee the council authorized a contract for the policing of Beacon Hill Park by the Canadian Corps of Commissionaires at 70 cents an hour. The move arose out of widespread vandalism which has resulted in damage to park fixtures.

A by-law to prohibit planting of hedges or trees within 18 inches of city street lines was given to City Solicitor A. J. Patton for consideration when members of the council claimed it was imposing on private property rights to pass such legislation. Mr. Patton, in reply to a question, said there was "no doubt" the by-law would constitute an infringement of such rights. Some members of the council pointed out, however, that the city did regulate where a property owner could place his house or garage in relation to the property line and that this was a parallel case.

The City Hall will remain closed over the Easter week-end from 5 p.m. Thursday until 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The Department of Education has advised the school board that accommodation of Victoria College students at the Normal School will cost the board $10,000 a year.

Grant of $75 for the Victoria Highland Games was approved by the council yesterday on a recommendation of the finance committee.

Expenditure of $390 was authorized to permit the water board to install a new engine in a motor launch used in connection with the waterworks at Sooke Lake.

T. Hadfield, A. I. Thomas, A. H. F. Stelk and B. Caley have been asked to attend an informal meeting to discuss matters regarding the establishment of a town planning commission and the preliminary work of drawing up a town plan for Esquimalt, Councillor A. C. Wurtele reported to a meeting of the council last night.

Esquimalt's share of health service costs for 1947 will be $4,049.53, an increase of $154.09 over last year's appropriations, Councillor A. C. Wurtele reported to the council last night.

A motion stating that Esquimalt is desirous of continuing the present arrangements for the payment for detention facilities for juveniles was passed by the council last night. The group stated it is not willing to accept any capital expenditure to acquire a detention home for juveniles nor is it willing to contribute to the upkeep of such an institution.

A request from the Esquimalt Recreational Council and the Parent-Teacher Association for a grant of $900 to defray expenses of the establishment of a number of playgrounds for children throughout the district this Summer was tabled for further consideration. The request was presented by J. Bryant, president of the Esquimalt P.-T.A., and Charles Beadwell, vice-chairman of the recreational council.

Esquimalt Council will inform the Victoria Labor Council that its request for endorsation of labor's brief to the Provincial Government cannot be complied with because such action falls outside the functions of the municipal council, it was decided at a meeting last night.

Little Theatre Presents New Success

Last evening at its Langham Court Theatre, the Victoria Little Theatre and Dramatic School presented the first performance of its latest production, an interesting melodrama under the capable direction of Mr. H. J. S. Reynolds, entitled "A Murder Has Been Arranged." Emlyn Williams, author of for his Broadway successes, "Night Must Fall" and "The Corn Is Green." Among those present to enjoy the opening night were Mayor Percy E. George and Mrs. George.

The well-chosen cast in order of appearance is as follows: Patricia Woodward, Audrey Woodward, Bob Birkett, Joan Pope, Ada Kroeger, J. Q. Cillan, C. W. Devey and Kay Roberts.

Particularly noteworthy were the convincing characterizations of Mrs. Wragg, the maid, played by Audrey Woodward, and Mrs. Arthur, the heroine's mother, played by Ada Kroeger. Outstanding performances were also given by Bob Birkett, cast as the hero, Jimmy North; and Joan Pope, as the sweet, young heroine, Beatrice Jasper.

Mildred Hamlet was in charge of properties. The Little Theatre Orchestra, which played during the intermissions, was under the direction of Mr. William Press.

Negotiations by Esquimalt Council to secure financial assistance from other Greater Victoria municipalities to care for the social service needs of residents of emergency housing accommodation at Macaulay Camp and Moresby House will continue, it was decided last night.

YANK YANK EXPLAINS SOME THINGS

When Yank Yank the Nuthatch asked Peter Rabbit if there was anything else he wanted to know, Peter was quite ready for him. "Yes," he retorted promptly, "I want to know how it is that you can walk head first down the trunk of a tree without losing your balance and tumbling off?"

Yank Yank chuckled happily. "I discovered a long time ago," he replied, "that the people who get on best in this world are those who make the most of what they have and waste no time wishing they had what other people have. I suppose you have noticed that all the Woodpecker family have stiff tail feathers and use them to brace themselves when they are climbing a tree. They have become so dependent upon them that they don't dare move about on the trunk of a tree without using them. If they want to come down a tree they have to back down.

"Now, Old Mother Nature didn't give me a stiff tail, but she gave me a very good pair of feet with three toes in front and one behind and when I was a very little fellow I learned to make the most of those feet. Each toe has a sharp claw. When I go up a tree the three front claws on each foot hook into the bark. When I come down a tree I simply twist one foot around so that the three front claws of this foot keep me from falling. It is just as easy for me to go down a tree as to go up and I can go right around the trunk quite as easily and comfortably." Suiting action to the word Yank Yank ran around the trunk of the apple tree just above Peter's head. When he reappeared Peter had another question ready.

"Do you live altogether on insects and worms and grubs and their eggs?" he asked.

"I should say not," exclaimed Yank Yank. "I like acorns and beech nuts and certain kinds of seeds."

"I don't see how such a little fellow as you can eat such hard things as acorns and beech nuts," protested Peter a little doubtfully.

Yank Yank laughed right out. "Some time when I see you over in the Green Forest I'll show you," said he. "When I find a fat beech nut I take it to a little crack in a tree which will just hold it. Then with the stout bill of mine I crack the shell. It really is quite easy when you know how. Cracking a nut open that way is sometimes called hatching, and that is how I come by the name of Nuthatch."

"I should say not," exclaimed Yank Yank

Labor Federation Contends Bill Will Create Industrial Unrest

Corridors in the Legislative Buildings swarmed with labor delegates this morning as trade union organizations—mainly C.C.L. affiliates—applied lobbying tactics to make known their objections to the provisions of the labor bill now before the House.

The lobby plan, first adopted by organized labor two years ago, brought [illegible] this year, compared with more than a thousand marchers who stormed the Legislative Buildings during the 1946 session.

The lobby is charging that the Government has broken its pledge to let organized labor see the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act bill before it went to the House, and claims that even yet the British Columbia Federation of Labor has not received a copy of the bill officially from the Government.

HOLDS GOOD FEATURES ARE OUTWEIGHED

While conceding that some features of the bill are an improvement over the old I.C.A. Act, the federation contends that these are far outweighed by bad features. It says the revocable check-off provision is a "half-hearted attempt to get labor to swallow the more objectionable features of the bill."

It warns that if the bill passes the House in its present form it will not bring industrial peace, but will "create great dissatisfaction, industrial unrest, and very likely industrial war," encouraging promotion of company unions and opening up a wide field for "union-busting and other provocative activities."

Protesting against the provision for compulsory secret strike votes under Government supervision, the federation says it would prevent or make illegal any strike by unorganized or organized labor, since the trade union would find itself overwhelmed in a maze of Government delayed [illegible] red tape.

Heading the lobby are Daniel O'Brien, British Columbia Federation of Labor president, Harvey Murphy and Alex McKenzie, first and second vice-presidents, and Harold Pritchett, secretary-treasurer.

Yesterday afternoon lobbyists heard reports from chairmen of committees detailed to interview members of the Legislature, and laid plans for the continuation of the lobby in this city.

The gathering was addressed briefly by Daniel O'Brien, who called upon delegates for renewed efforts to bring about amendments to the proposed labor legislation.

Safe-Crackers Take $180 Cash

About $180 in cash was stolen by safe-crackers who blew open the strong box in the office of Wilson Motors, Ltd., Colwood, Sunday night, headquarters of the British Columbia Police reported yesterday.

The door of the heavy safe, a tubular model set in concrete, was blown cleanly off, police said, and a piece of the front assembly buried itself in the plaster of the wall across the room.

Money was the only thing stolen from the garage, police reported, the burglars spurning cheques, tools and other articles in the building.

Entrance was made by forcing a rear door into the garage and another door into the office, the report stated.

Investigation was carried out by Sgt. C. C. Jacklin, Constable H. Smith and Detective-Constable J. Sweeney.

Reported Work On New Bill Brings Protest

Reported action of the Department of Municipal Affairs in drawing up a bill to make the imposition of a business tax optional in British Columbia municipalities brought a protest from the U.B.C.M. executive yesterday.

"This is absolutely contrary to the wishes expressed at the meeting (of the municipal committee of the House) and this was also stated to the Provincial Cabinet," R. R. F. Sewell, secretary of the union, stated in a letter to the Municipal Affairs Minister Hon. R. C. MacDonald.

He pointed out the union desired that, if the tax were imposed at all, that it be made mandatory in all parts of the province.

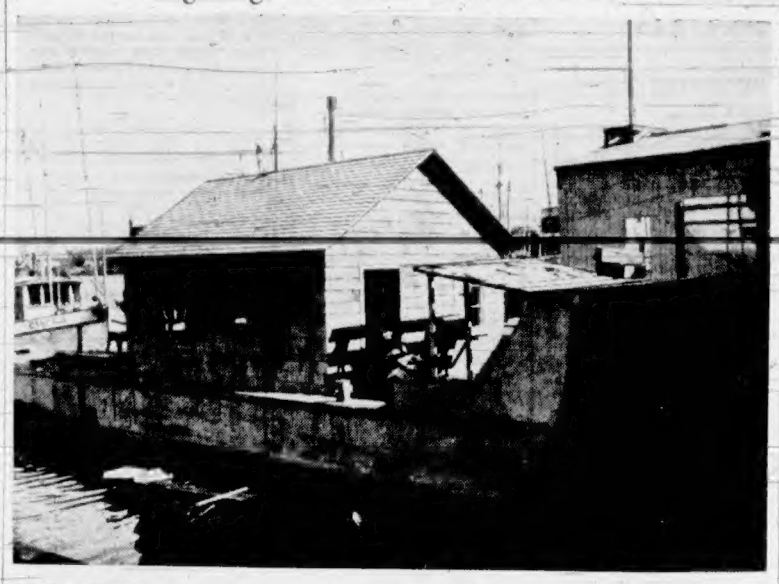
The letter also pointed out the union would prefer that an act authorizing the imposition of the tax only should be passed at this time with the details of rates to be brought down by order in council after the union has decided its general policy following the convention this September.

Mayor Percy E. George reiterated his opposition yesterday to the proposed move pointing out it would only add chaos and confusion in the Greater Victoria area with some municipalities imposing the tax and others not doing so. He pointed out the Government was on one hand trying to equalize taxes by equalizing the basis of assessments and on the other hand was creating the same sort of confusion regarding the business tax.

Proposes Arbitration

PORT ALBERNI, March 17.—Trustee W. R. B. Brown, chairman of Alberni District School Board, has written to Mayor W. C. Hamilton and the city council that arbitration seems to be the only solution to the proposed tax levy for school purposes. Board estimates were rejected by the city council last week.

Cargo Lighter Becomes Houseboat Here



—Colonist Photos

On this ramped cargo lighter, commercial fisherman Ken Baird is completing a comfortable two-room home which he will soon tow to Ucluelet, on the West Coast. Ten days' work is represented in the upper photograph. The job will be completed toward the end of this week. Mr. Baird is seen at left in the lower picture. With him is his brother-in-law, George Robertson. They are working on the oil stove and hot water heater just installed.

Problem of Cramped Living Quarters Is Solved by Commercial Fisherman

A practical answer to the housing shortage has been found by commercial fisherman Ken Baird, whose Victoria home is at 107 Beachwood Avenue.

Each Summer he takes his 48-foot troller Casey B., with his wife and baby son on board, to the West Coast of Vancouver Island where the big catches are made.

Mr. Baird was confronted with a real problem. Living conditions in a fishing vessel can be crowded for just one person. As his work is seasonal, he did not want to build on the West Coast.

Recently he found an answer. It is a two-room cabin built on a ramped cargo lighter he purchased from War Assets Corporation. These vessels, measuring 50 feet in length and 21 feet wide, were used in the war by the army and navy for the transporting of men, trucks, and military equipment.

LIGHTER TOWED FROM COMOX

For $105 he bought the "lighter" at Comox, and towed it to the Inner Harbor here to make into a floating Summer home. Construction started about ten days ago, and will be completed toward the end of this week. Mr. Baird will tow the finished home to Ucluelet, West Coast, from which port he intends to fish for salmon this Summer. He believes the towing job will take no longer than 18 hours.

Containing an oil stove, with facilities for hot and cold running water, and a small shower, the house will be completely shingled. It measures 20 by 1[illegible] feet. In the "front yard"—space left on the prow forward of the house—Mr. Baird has built a little workshop. He explained yesterday "this will probably be a playground for the youngster."

Mr. Baird plans to rent his floating home at Ucluelet during the Winter months. It will be there for him and his family each fishing season. If he decides next year to fish out of some other port, he will tow his cabin to the new centre of operations.

"The whole thing, when complete, will cost me about $700," Mr. Baird said yesterday.

His is one of five or more homes being built on lighters in the Greater Victoria area.

Remuneration Is Asked For Trustees

Remuneration for school trustees to compensate them for the responsibilities they have to assume and the time they lose from their own businesses was recommended in the Legislature yesterday by Opposition Leader Harold Winch during discussion of estimates for the Department of Education.

Noting the large sums placed in the hands of trustee boards for disbursement, Mr. Winch maintained that theirs was a very serious responsibility and that most members lost money in their own business endeavors by giving time to school affairs.

Education Minister G. M. Weir replied that there was a division of opinion on that score. He said there was no such provision in the United Kingdom or the United States for remuneration of school trustees, and expressed the opinion that the time was not ready for such a step in British Columbia.

"I doubt whether there is enough unanimity among the trustees—and certainly not among the ratepayers," Dr. Weir added.

May Name McKelvie As Historian

Education Minister G. M. Weir hinted in the Legislature yesterday that the Provincial Government may soon appoint Bruce A. McKelvie, doyen of Victoria newspapermen, to write an official history of the province.

His statement was made in the House when Opposition Leader Harold Winch expressed regret that ways and means had not been found to capitalize on Mr. McKelvie's unique knowledge of British Columbia's history.

Mr. Winch reminded the House that last year there had been unanimous support for the official retention of the province's unofficial historian, and maintained that the Government should go out of its way to secure Mr. McKelvie's services. He suggested that if remuneration were the stumbling block, the Government should remember that Mr. McKelvie had worked for many years to gain the knowledge that now placed him far ahead of any other historian in the province, and that the time had come for the Government to act without further delay.

Dr. Weir replied that the Government had the matter "under advisement," agreed that Mr. McKelvie possessed unrivaled knowledge of provincial history, and hinted that the Government might be able to take advantage of that knowledge before long.

On a recommendation of the public works committee the City Council ordered Police Chief J. A. McLellan to clamp down on woodyard operators and lumber mills allegedly using city streets for piling their products.

They Say

The trend of the news is that sugar will be more plentiful after the 1st of April.

If this is true, and it seems to be, though not authorized yet, it will mean more sugar to the Candy Shop.

Now if chocolate coating and butter could do likewise life wouldn't be so difficult.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, March 17 (AP).—The stock market today jogged through one of the slowest sessions of the past year with professional bidding for a technical recovery bolstering individual favorites while many leaders continued to retreat moderately.

From the start the ticker tape inclined to doze. A few "blue chips" pushed up 1 to 3 points on small sales, but advances generally were in fractions. Top gains were reduced in the majority of cases at the close, and the losing column was fairly well populated.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up 3 of a point, first comeback since Wednesday. The utility index slipped .2 to a new 1947 bottom. Of 906 issues registering, 427 rose and 262 fell.

TORONTO, March 17 (CP).—A brisk opening on the Toronto Stock Exchange today with moderately rising prices died off as the day progressed, and prices receded from early session gains. Afternoon trading turned mild and featureless.

Mining issues turned dull towards close, and losses and gains balanced. Base Metals, however, held firm and closed on a price rise for the group.

Gold turned featureless, but a few good gains were posted. Trading in industrials was dull throughout the day with no group posting outstanding changes. Papers were mildly off in fractions. Bell, Montreal Power and Union Gas were up fractions.
